GREEN SEEKING REPEAL OF PART OF TARIFF LAW

ays Flexible Clause Is Failure.

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—[Special.]—Repeal of the so-called flexible provisions of the tariff law was advocated today by Representative W. R. Green (Ia.), who, as chairman of the house ways and means committee, will be in charge of the general tariff revision which is expected in the next congress.

Rep. W. R. Green (Harris & Ewing.) stated that the flexible provisions under which the President is authorized to increase or decrease duties on that recommendation of the tariff commission, "have accomplished practically nothing and are detrimental to the usefulness of the commission."

Establishment of the flexible tariff system, he said, has failed to take the tariff out of politics.

Wants the Former Status

Mr. Green favored restoring the tariff commission to its former function as a fact-finding body which would assemble information for the use of congressmen attempting to decide questions of policy.

Because of the fact that Mr. Green will occupy a more important position in the framing of the next tariff law than any other member of congress, his declaration is expected to give a decided impetus to a movement which has already gained considerable headway. Dissatisfaction with the operation of the flexible tariff has been expressed both by protectionists and by importing interests. Certain farm organizations which have taken exception to methods employed by the tariff commission in computing costs of farm products, are demanding the repeal of the flexible tariff.

Points to Recent Attacks

"The membership of the tariff commission has recently become the subject of much controversy in congress," Mr. Green said. "When what is known as the independent office bill was recently being considered in the committee of the whole, the appropriation for the tariff commission was stricken out and the appointments to the tariff commission were made by the president and as I think, unjustifiable attack. This appropriation was subsequently restored but the opposition to the tariff commission is probably stronger than it has been any time since its creation."

"Hill recently there has been no controversy over the appointments to the tariff commission and the members have not been under fire in congress. The reports of the commission have always accepted by congress and have to a large extent relied by both houses and means committee of the senate and the finance committee of the house."

Source of Much Dispute

"What is known as the flexible tariff provision became a part of the law by being incorporated in the tariff act but the commission has in its operation got into difficulties and its members have been numerous. Because of the fact that this provision of the tariff law is still merely a dead body but in fact it is still enabling its decisions to modify the tariff provisions of the tariff law."

"The result has been to make it impossible to render judgment on the tariff provisions of the subject of the tariff provisions, the nature of the tariff provisions depending on the views of the person making it as to the nature of a protective tariff."

Made a Political Body

"Political considerations have been in the minds of many, most of whom are making selection of members of the commission and some of whom are of the house and senate, manifested a desire to make it a political body."

"The result has been to impair the tariff and standing of the commission to greatly injure its usefulness. No particular benefit has been derived from the so-called flexible provisions. I favor the repeal of these provisions, which have accomplished practically nothing and are detrimental to the usefulness of the commission."

MAN IS SLAIN, COP AT SCENE; ALL A MYSTERY

James Rollo, 1104 South Laflin street, brother of King Rollo, the pugilist, was shot and killed last night in a manner which has baffled the police although a patrolman was only a few feet away when the shooting occurred.

The policeman, Frederick Bennecke, heard a shot fired as he was nearing Taylor street and Ashland boulevard. He saw a woman tumbling down the front steps at 913 South Ashland avenue and a man fleeing from the scene. He grappled with the man. The man escaped and fired three shots at the policeman, who lay half stunned on the sidewalk.

Before Policeman Bennecke could get out his pistol some one fired two shots and the fugitive, who was Rollo, dropped dead. Policeman Bennecke was unable to determine who had fired or from what direction the bullets came. Meanwhile the woman had disappeared.

The police are searching for Rollo's wife, from whom he has been estranged for some time. Neighbors said Rollo had upbraided her for entertaining other men before she had obtained a divorce.

The police are also searching for Dennis Richmond, Mrs. Rollo's brother, who, according to the neighbors, was with her shortly before the shooting. He is a taxi cab driver.

Mrs. Hannah Snedeker, 9542, Avenue L, celebrated her hundredth birthday yesterday at her home with a family reunion, which included five generations of her relatives. Her actual anniversary was on Wednesday.

Mrs. Snedeker is very proud of her lineage, being the seventh generation in direct descent from John and Priscilla Alden. She was born February 11, 1825, at Windsor, New York.

Her husband, Charles Snedeker, served in the civil war. His death occurred at Aurora, Ill., about thirty years ago.

Since that time she lived for a short period with each of her two daughters, both of whom are now dead, and now makes her home with her granddaughter, Mrs. Lucile Smith.

ASKS FRANCE TO PAY BRITAIN OUT OF OWN POCKETS

Bars Plan Based on Dawes Receipts.

By JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Great Britain's reply to France on the question of the Anglo-French debt which the chancellor of the exchequer, Winston Churchill, sent to M. Clemenceau, French finance minister, was made public today. After reaffirming the Balfour offer to make a very heavy reduction in the debt, Britain proposes that France shall agree to make "fixed annual payments, irrespective of the actual receipts from the Dawes annuities."

After outlining previous steps in the debt negotiations between Paris and London before the adoption of the Dawes plan the note states:

"The principle of the Balfour note is that Great Britain should receive from Europe payments equivalent to those she is under obligation to make to the United States of America. His majesty's government cannot accept a position in which this principle could only be achieved upon the basis of a full, normal yield of the Dawes annuities or by taking at their face value the debts which cannot be at present treated as good assets. His majesty's government already has consented not merely to reduce their claims against the allies to the amount necessary to cover their own payments with respect to the British war debt to the United States government, but actually to apply the whole United Kingdom share of German reparations to that purpose."

Assumes Own War Damages.

"This means that Great Britain not only takes to her own charge the whole of her own war damages, but also $500,000,000 ($4,000,000,000) in foreign securities devoted by her to the general effort before the United States entered the war."

"In the application of the Balfour note to the existing situation, his majesty's government, remembering that the war debts between the allies had been incurred in a common cause, have been prepared to consider proposals under which the existing French debt to Great Britain would be reduced provided that the principle of definite payment by France from her own national resources is fixed, with due regard to her relative wealth and tax paying capacity, is assured without reference to reparations. In the view of his majesty's government, therefore, it might be found convenient that the French payments should be divided into fixed annual amounts, to be paid by the French irrespective of the actual receipts from the Dawes annuities."

Expresses Hope for Settlement.

"It would, of course, be understood first that all counter claims by France against Great Britain would be superseded, and, secondly, that if and when the payments derived by Great Britain from European war debts and reparations were sufficient to provide for the full discharge of the British obligations towards the United States over the full period of such obligations, including payments already made, any surplus is to be used to diminish the burden resting upon Great Britain's allies."

"His majesty's government entertains the hope that if the French government is prepared to make proposals on the lines here suggested, a settlement satisfactory to both countries might be reached."

Note Rejected by France.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Feb. 8.—France considers Winston Churchill's note outlining the basis for a settlement of debts as satisfactory in principle and offering an equitable basis for negotiations. Finance Minister Clemenceau said tonight that the French government will be preparing a memorandum containing propositions for settling the war debt to England. This will take three or four weeks.

M. Clemenceau is pleased with Mr. Churchill's willingness to discuss a revision of France's debt to England, which amounts to nearly $500,000,000 ($2,500,000,000). Mr. Churchill's offer to take into consideration France's national riches, its potential tax yield, and its capacity to pay, the French believe, opens the way for France to claim a special position because of the devastated regions and huge war losses of men.

It is realized here that the Churchill note is bound to eventually lead to another "silent appeal" through interference to the United States to reduce its claims on all the creditors, including England, in order to permit settlement exactly as the Balfour and Curson notes implied.

Chaplin Home Is All Bliss; Lawsuits Off

By GEORGE SHAFER.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 8.—[Special.]

The game of matrimonial hopscotch indulged in by Los Angeles celebrities was revived today at the Charlie Chaplin household in Beverly Hills.

Event No. 1 was the moving out of Charlie's mother-in-law, Mrs. Lillian Curry McMurray Spicer.

No. 2 was the declaration that Charlie and Lita have cemented their recent division and are supposed to be accepted as living together on "a honeymoon basis."

No. 3 was the announcement of dropping all legal pourpours between the respective attorneys of Charlie and Lita.

No. 4. Charlie has invited his 16 year old bride's kinkfolk to visit the studio and watch him shoot scenes.

"Both Happy," Says Mrs. Spicer.

Mrs. Spicer emphasized that Chaplin's accord now reigns in the Chaplin mansion, from his newly rented house in Whitley Heights.

"Why should I explain moving?" she said when asked about leaving her daughter for the first time since last Nov. 22, when she and Lita began a three days' vigil in Guaymas, Mex., for Charlie to show up and get married.

"Lita is living with her husband and happy," mother-in-law added. "I don't think it's anybody's business why I moved, really. We don't want any more publicity, nothing unusual has happened and there's nothing to say. None of us will see any reporters in future."

"There are no negotiations now going on between Lita and Charlie, or their attorneys. What there were were of a purely personal nature."

The announcement of the negotiations, in which Edwin McMurray, San Francisco lawyer and uncle of Lita, acted for the bride, and Lloyd Wright for Charlie, was made a week ago by McMurray, who was in Los Angeles for two days this week, but could not be located for an interview.

To Dispense with Lawyers.

At the Chaplin house today Yoshi, the Japanese houseboy, said, "Every body is out. Everything is fine. Sure, Charlie stays here. Sure, Mrs. Curry stays here."

Mr. Curry and Mrs. Curry, grandparents of Lita, said, "We are not aware of all our granddaughter's personal affairs," and Mrs. Curry vouchsafed, "Charlie treats Lita fine now. They have decided not to do anything more with lawyers. They had dinner together at the Ambassador last week. Lita is serving on clothes for the baby's coming."

A maid has been employed by Mrs. Chaplin to replace the companionship of her mother. There are no other women in the Chaplin household.

GUNMEN RAID PARTY AT HOME OF PHYSICIAN

A neighborhood party at the home of Dr. Harry Weil, 2225 North Kedzie boulevard, was interrupted last night by three holdup men who escaped with $175 in cash and jewels valued at $5,000 or more.

Among the victims were Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Shaffer and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Molner, 2257 Kedzie boulevard; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Klein, 2261 Kedzie boulevard; Morris Block, 2263 Kedzie boulevard; A. Goldstein, 2259 Kedzie boulevard; Mr. and Mrs. Weiss, 2652 Pierce avenue; Benjamin Grapes, 2406 Kedzie boulevard; Dr. and Mrs. A. Griffin, and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. PUBLICITY PLOT HINTED; GRAND JURY WILL ACT

Stunt That Turned to Tragedy Possible.

By TOM KILLIAN.

Cave City, Ky., Feb. 8.—[Special.]—A grand jury inquiry into mysterious circumstances surrounding the imprisonment of Floyd Collins will be started tomorrow morning.

County Attorney J. Lewis Williams tonight announced at his home in Glasgow that the investigation would be pushed vigorously.

Detectives will be sent here tomorrow to begin accumulating evidence as well as to take testimony from newspaper correspondents and state officials who have amassed a large amount of material indicating that the case merits investigation.

Hint Charge of Homicide.

County Attorney Williams says he will investigate rumors that the Sand cave tragedy grows out of a plan to gain publicity for the newly discovered cavern and also that if Floyd Collins is found dead a charge involving homicide may be lodged.

Rumors have reached Williams that Collins, while he may have been in the cave for some days, is no longer there and has disappeared by a rear exit to some other hiding place in the hills. The attitude of the family and relatives rebukes such a theory and it is regarded as regrettable that such gossip has gained currency.

Attorney Williams' announcement created a sensation when it was told to Lieut. Gov. Denhardt, who is in personal charge here, and to other state officials.

Governor to Take Charge.

Gov. William J. Fields said over long distance phone that he would come to Cave City as soon as possible and take complete charge of the investigation as well as of the rescue work now going on.

Earlier today Parson Jim Hamilton, thin and tall, straddled a sleepy mule to ride twenty miles over the Kentucky hills and preach about the cave prison of Collins—America's most dramatic sermon of the day.

Dramatic in setting and personnel it was, more than in the few simple words he uttered to the 5,000 on the hill overlooking the troubled pit.

Just a long, lean circuit rider bringing the word of hope to people of the same simple faith; a sermon of the hills laden with the fatalistic dogma that if Floyd Collins is dead it is God's will, and if he lives, praise be to the Lord who stilled the tempest on the feet of Gallies.

Pleads for Faith to Save.

Shrill screams of the steel drills in the pit below were his accompaniment. The roaring concussion of dynamite made his periods. And skinny finger warning that they who have faith in one who ruled the angry waves may do their share in extricating the imprisoned man.

"O Lord God who turned back the tide at Gallies," he prayed at the close, "have pity on this your child imprisoned in your earth. Give him back to them who treasure him upon this soil. And if he lives, it be thy will that he shall not return to them, then, Lord, Thy will be done. Amen."

The parents wept silently and tears rolled down the preacher's furrowed face.

Report Collins Is Alive.

Five minutes later engineers far down in the cavern reported that Collins was still alive, after being trapped underground more than nine days.

They're positive now that Collins still lives, and they're steady men, professors of science, engineers of all kinds, including electricians and experienced miners, braving sudden death in following Collins' tortuous trail into the black recesses.

There they set up an amplifier with delicate acoustic properties. Immediately, they reported, they detected an intermittent rustling which they are positive was caused by Floyd Collins' writhing in his limestone cell. But they say he is far weaker.

Dr. William Haslett of Chicago immediately set up blood transfusion apparatus rushed here by Chief Surgeon E. I. McArthur of St. Luke's hospital and prepared to relieve anemia, from which Collins will be suffering if he is taken out alive.

Brother Offers His Blood.

He called for volunteers to submit to tests to furnish blood for the lean man. Homer Collins, his brother, immediately came forward and was accepted.

At the same time Dr. Haslett was wiring MeCook field at Dayton, O., in

COURTS OF CITY FREEING CROOKS, CHARGE BY LYLE

Calls Olson's Attention to Police Records.

Judge John H. Lyle hit back last night at Chief Justice Harry Olson, who transferred him recently from the criminal branch of the Municipal court to the civil bench.

Judge Lyle's answer to the Olson charge he had violated the law in fixing bail at $100,000 or more is fifty-three cases was to cite the police records of eleven of these men. He obtained his material from the police bureau of identification. The records show that those eleven men had been frequently arrested and frequently set free by other members of the Municipal bench.

Replies in Open Letter.

Judge Lyle embodied his charges in an open letter addressed to Judge Olson and the citizens of Chicago. He deleted the names of the judges who had handled the cases in question. He introduced his detailed extracts from the police records by saying:

"I would like for the citizens who want to walk the streets of Chicago in safety day or night to say whether I was right in holding on heavy bonds these ex-convicts and holdup men, who were positively identified when arrested before me.

"In two instances, these highway-men so severely beat their victims that they later died. In many of the other cases, by the use of the revolver and other weapons, they beat the victims into submission either before or after they had robbed them.

"As far as I know, most of these men now are in the county jail, unless it be that some other judge has lowered their bonds or that the grand jury has failed to indict.

"Is my whole public record of eleven years in the state legislature and city council to be discredited by Judge Olson? The bonds were to keep behind the bars the ex-convicts, holdup men, robbers and two murderers, some of whose records are herein.

"My slogan from now on is no parole or probation and bonds of $100,000 for gunmen."

The first case cited by the judge is that of John Ryan, alias Thomas Holden, who he held in $100,000 bonds on one charge of robbery with a gun on Jan. 9.

Biography Police Supplied.

Ryan's previous record as taken from the police files shows:

Sentenced April 17, 1916, to thirty days in the House of Correction and fined $1 after a burglary charge had been charged to petty larceny.

Robbery charge stricken off Nov. 7, 1919.

Robbery charge stricken off Dec. 1, 1919; reinstated Jan. 24, 1922.

Escaped prisoner turned over to sheriff April 1, 1922.

Four robbery charges stricken off April 4, 1922.

Turned over to sheriff March 2, 1923, on charge of assault to kill robbery.

3rd guilty of robbery, March 2, 1923. Assault to kill charge stricken off May 23, 1923.

Burglary charge nolle prossed March 12, 1923.

Three robbery charges stricken off April 17, 1923.

Three robbery charges stricken off May 23, 1923.

The last notation in this case is that Judge Lyle held Ryan to the grand jury in $100,000 bonds on one charge of robbery with a gun. The records give the names of the judges who struck off the charges, but Judge Lyle left the names out of his transcript.

The next case cited by the judge is that of Percy Poe, "who was held by me to the grand jury on eleven different charges of kidnapping and robbery with a gun. His bonds altogether totaled $600,000 for the eleven charges."

Poe's record shows that on May 3, 1924, he was placed on probation for a year, after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of assault to rob. The next time he was arrested Judge Lyle fixed the $600,000 bail.

The Eccentricity of Poe.

"The only bad habit he had," Judge Lyle comments on Poe, "was to tie the hands and feet of his victims together and beat them on the head with a revolver, according to the statements made in open court."

Another high bail bond was demanded for Fred Tate who did time at Leavenworth in 1923 for violating the Harrison anti-narcotic drug act; was found not guilty of robbery in 1924 and was held in bonds of $250,000 on two charges of robbery with a gun by Judge Lyle on Jan. 17.

Louis Bernardi who was sentenced to Joliet by Judge Gummil on Jan. 27, 1925, for robbery with a gun and when rearrested, presumably while out on bond, pending an appeal, was held in $200,000 bonds by Judge Lyle. Regarding him, Judge Lyle comments:

"He is held in the $18,000 railway express robbery. His bond was reduced from $100,000 to $30,000 and when he did not show up in court, I forfeited the $30,000 bond. When he was brought in again I put the bond back to $100,000 in spite of the fact that some other judge had reduced it."

The next case is that of John Keating, released on his own recognizance on a robbery charge in 1903; sent to Pontiac reformatory in 1904; paroled in 1905 and discharged in 1910; held $100 for disorderly conduct in 1911; cleared of two robbery charges in 1912 and later sent to Joliet on another one; freed of two robbery charges by a municipal judge in 1918; sentenced to 18 years for bank robbery in Iowa in 1919, and when arrested on Jan. 27 of this year, held in $50,000 bonds by Judge Lyle on a charge of violating the Sadler act.

Like Many Others.

The others mentioned in the Lyle letter are:

Charles Schiffman: Placed on probation for burglary in 1921; fined $200 and costs in 1924; held in $100,000 bonds on a charge of robbery with a gun by Lyle on Jan. 23.

Louis Gray: Fined $300 for disorderly conduct in 1921; $1 fine and 60 days in the house of correction in the same year when he pleaded guilty to petty larceny after being arrested for burglary; fined $25 for disorderly conduct in 1922; held by Lyle in bonds of $100,000 for robbery and burglary.

Thomas Abbott: Placed on probation for a year for stealing an auto in 1921; fined $200 for disorderly conduct in 1922; arrested subsequently for burglary and held by Lyle in $100,000 bonds for attempted burglary.

John Wilson: Fined $200 in 1920 for disorderly conduct; three robbery charges and one of assault to kill stricken off in 1922; arrested as burglar in 1923; held by Judge Lyle in $100,000 bonds, charged with robbery with a gun.

Benjamin Moscham: Discharged

after arrest on charge of stealing an auto in Milwaukee in 1919; fined $2 in Chicago in 1920; arrested on suspicion, 1923; held in $200,000 bonds by Lyle on two charges of robbery with a gun.

Floyd Lever: Reported sentenced to five months in Detroit for gun-toting; held to the grand jury by Lyle in bonds of $215,000 on three charges of robbery with a gun and three of assault to kill.

In transferring Lyle, Judge Olson said the Illinois Supreme court repeatedly has held that bonds of $100,000 for a charge of robbery with a gun are excessive and in violation of the constitutional provision for reasonable bail.

TWO BOYS AND WOMAN ADDED TO AUTOS' TOLL

Truck Skids and Crushes Small Child.

Two boys, a man, and an unidentified woman were added Sunday to the 1925 toll of autos in Cook county, raising the total to 65.

Victor Wentzloff, 5 years old, 2323 Carolina street, was the youngest victim and his death came despite heroic efforts on the part of a truck driver to avoid the accident.

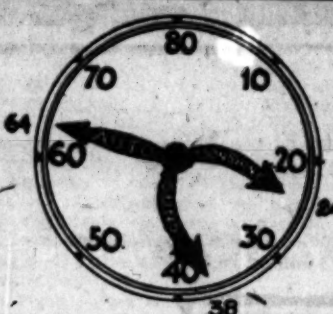

With a number of his playmates, Victor was crossing slippery West ern avenue opposite site No. 2070, Lester Jenkins, 4110 North Sacramento avenue, was driving an express truck toward the group. He swerved, expecting to miss the children, but skidded. The boys scattered.

Crushed Under Truck. Victor, panic stricken by the impending danger, ran near the truck. Jenkins twisted the wheel again, the police learned, and the truck turned on its side. Victor was under it. He was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Mary's hospital. Jenkins was uninjured. The police did not hold him.

The unidentified woman, about 45 years old, was fatally injured when struck by an automobile driven by Elijah Dixon, 914 Townsend street, a colored chauffeur, at West 31st and South Clark streets last night.

Truck Crashes Into Tree. According to the Stanton avenue police, who rushed her to the Michael Reese hospital, where she died, she was about 5 feet 6 inches tall, wore a blue serge suit, a fur coat, gray blouse, and black shoes. She also wore a string of red beads and a two wedding

HANDS OF DEATH

The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1. Yesterday was the thirty-ninth day of 1925.

Dixon is being held by the police. Clarence Nelson, 17 years old, Thornton, was fatally injured late Saturday night when the truck he was driving crashed into a tree east of Harvey. Nelson died of internal injuries in the Ingalls Memorial hospital. Harvey, his uncle, John Eastman, who was riding with him, was injured.

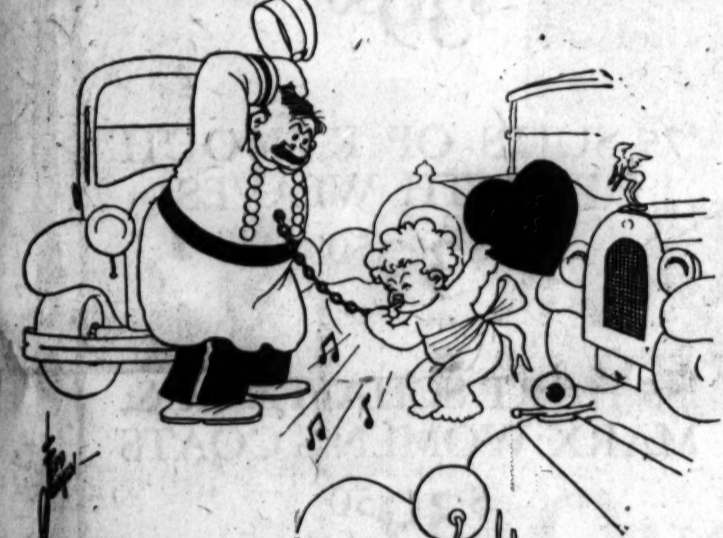

Tony Robino, 27, 1155 West Ohio street, was killed when he was struck by a Premier taxicab after he alighted from a street car at Grand and Chicago avenues. Police held John J. Mayer, chauffeur of the taxicab. Witnesses said he did not stop his machine behind the car to give passengers time to alight.

Nome, Alaska, Feb. 8.—A herd of 1,800 reindeer belonging to the Lomen Reindeer corporation arrived at Golovin on the north shore of Norton sound yesterday after a 200 mile drive from Buckland river, south of Kotzebue sound, according to word received here yesterday. The reindeer arrived in excellent shape and were to be slaughtered immediately and placed in cold storage for shipment to Seattle.

ITALIANS HOLD AIR MINISTRY IN WAR UNDESIRABLE

Aviation Is an Auxiliary Service.

BY DON SKENE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) (Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.) ROME, Feb. 8.—No distinction is made by the Italian government between the air force and two principal defense departments—war and navy.

Both the war ministry and navy department control aviation within their separate branches, the war ministry insisting that the air forces, cooperating either with the land and sea forces, form an integral part of the war effort and that they be directed by the same command as directs the forces they are assisting.

Since the Italian navy is relatively small in comparison with the army, the organization of the air forces of Italy is chiefly under the direction of the army officials, and it is agreed by the naval and military heads that there is no necessity for defense purposes for the air forces to be under an independent department.

Picco, Minister of Aviation.

The work of advancement and development of aviation, however, is under a separate subdepartment, whose energies are directed exclusively to the interests of aviation.

Gen. Roger Picco, husband of a Chicago girl, formerly Loranda Batchelder, was named minister of aviation, but the creation of this office did not aim at providing air forces independent from the army and navy, for the purpose of concentrating on the work of construction and improvement of the Italian aviation units. The present cabinet has only a war and navy minister, neither department having ever had a conflict with the subordinate air commander.

The importance of aviation is recognized as daily becoming broader and less restricted. However, there is a particular realm of commercial and postal flying, and the authorities foresee the time when this department may become distinctly of such great importance that a separate ministry may be a necessity, with the interests of activity entirely outside of either the army or navy.

War Aviation Auxiliary.

"Considering the fact that war aviation still remains an auxiliary service, assisting the facilities of movements on land and sea, the force of the air units should always be part of these two departments, regardless of whether another department is created to handle military air services," one authority said. "In war there is the greatest need of concentration and centralization of command and anything tending to divide the efforts is undesirable."

13 Killed, Many Injured, When French Wall Falls

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) BEZIEERS, France, Feb. 8.—Thirteen were killed and nearly a score injured, including firemen, police, and troops called out to assist in fighting the blaze.

RIOTING MARKS NATIONAL VOTE IN JUGO-SLAVIA

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

VIENNA, Feb. 8.—The Jugo-Slav government ordered all private telephone and telegraph communications stopped during the election which was held today. This measure heightened the fear of bloody encounters, especially in Croatia and Bosnia.

The Croat Republican chief, M. Radich, head of the peasants' party, is in prison, but the party defender, Dr. Trumbich, was a candidate in his place. The peasants obtained a great victory in Zagreb, polling 15,500 votes, while the government party got only 5,500.

Zagreb elected two opposition deputies, Dr. Trumbich and M. Kosutic, the latter M. Radich's son-in-law. Up to the present Croatia is calm, but the phones and telegraphs are under strict censorship and it was impossible to confirm the exact results. In Belgrade the government elected three deputies, Prime Minister Pachich and Minister of the Interior Maximovich keeping their places.

News from Bosnia says the city of Bihae saw trouble when Pachich crowds hindered the peasants from voting. Troops attacked the peasants and several were killed and injured.

SEARCH FOR WOMAN SHOOTER.

The police were looking last night for a woman, 40 years old, 2708 South La Salle street, who shot and wounded Mrs. Marie Smith in the abdomen, after argument over the shutting and opening of a hallway door. Both are colored.

Chinese Rugs

Our entire new importation Priced unusually low for rugs of this quality

We frankly admit that you can buy Chinese Rugs for less than these. But if you will make comparisons you will quickly see these are priced considerably less than you must usually pay for rugs of this quality.

There are many grades of Chinese rugs. These are one of the finest qualities—far better than the average Chinese rug. The very fine, long spun wool and the close texture with which they are woven gives them an extremely long life. Each one is a heavy, thick piece—almost an inch in depth.

This new importation consists of an unusually large number of rugs—room sizes, as well as the smaller sizes. It includes rugs of most every color—Chinese blue, rose, flame, mulberry, gold, and various shades of taupe—many of them in unusual combinations.

If you are interested in Chinese rugs, we urge you to see this importation. At their prices we believe they are the best values obtainable. A few of them are mentioned.

"Built Like a Skyscraper"

And It Really Is Built Like a Skyscraper

THIS Shaw-Walker file is built with steel framework and steel walls. It rises, story on story. Sills, uprights, girders, reinforced. Strain and stress, worked out by engineers. Then the whole structure is spot-welded into one piece of solid steel—never to be torn apart.

Even each drawer is one piece of steel. On its steel bearings, rigid roadbed and cold-drawn rails, it slides as smooth and swift as a skater on ice. It will slide that way for a lifetime.

Shaw-Walker sells 2700 items of office equipment—filing cabinets, desks, safes, indexing, cards, folders and guides.

Into your office, along with this equipment, goes Shaw-Walker file engineering service, which makes Shaw-Walker products fit your particular business.

MOORISHGENERAL RIDICULES SPAIN EFFORTS IN RIFF

Helps Tribune Man Run
Spanish Blockade.

BY VINCENT SHEAR.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1925, by The Chicago Tribune.)
TANGIER, Feb. 8.—Almost the entire Riff army, except those units centered on the coast and on the frontier protecting the zone which faces French Morocco, is now concentrated in western Morocco along the line established by Primo de Rivera in his retreat to the coast.

Fighting is continuous along the line from Tetuan to the Mediterranean to the edge of the Larache zone and the French zone on the south, and the whole campaign is directed—as every campaign has been since 1921—by Prince Mohamed Ben Abdel Krim, brother of the sultan.

Escorted by two soldiers from the Wad Lout garrison, I arrived at Targueta, where the general headquarters of the Riff army is located, and on the morning of Jan. 29 Prince Mohamed received me in his tent where we discussed the present military situation and the capture of Tainull.

Riffians Want Peace.
"It is important to make it clear," he emphasized, "that we wish peace with the whole world. We should never have molested Raisuli if he had given up his allegiance to Spain when he was invited to do so. Our aim is to liberate our country, but we make no exaggerated demands either as to territory or other terms, and we are willing to negotiate whenever the powers interested in the Moroccan situation decide."

This young man is a dignified and even stately person. He speaks pure Castilian, and he exhibits a most thorough knowledge of European politics and the general situation of the world powers. He is about 28, but for the last four years he has been leading his brother's troops to victory on every field in northern Morocco.

He was educated as a military engineer at the royal war college at Madrid. He is an expert topographer and mineralogist. He discussed Primo de Rivera's strategy calmly and judiciously, and he explained why he believes it a failure.

The Spanish Retreat.
The Spanish retreat had two purposes," he explained. "The first purpose was military—that is, to blockade and isolate the interior and to cut off our food supplies. The second purpose was political—to shorten the Spanish lines so as to strengthen the troops fighting here and also to reduce the number, consequently improving Spain's political position."

Both purposes have been utter failures so far. We have neither been blockaded nor isolated. You will see

WOMEN TO MEET AT WASHINGTON TO TAKE UP U. S. DEFENSE ACT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Sixteen women's national patriotic organizations have been asked by the American Legion auxiliary to send representatives to Washington for a woman's conference, Feb. 22 to 25, on national defense as peace insurance.

The call for the meeting, announced today by Mrs. O. D. Oliphant of Trenton, N. J., national president of the American Legion auxiliary, proposes discussion of the operations of the national defense act, and of pending legislation for universal military draft in war time. Organizations invited include the Daughters of the American Revolution, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, National War Mothers and Women's Relief Corps of the Grand Army of the Republic.

that for yourself when you pass through the Spanish lines to Tangier. Our postal service to the Angora country goes through the Spanish lines every night. We have plenty of everything we want to eat or to wear. The reason for this is that to maintain such a line as Primo de Rivera has established, and to maintain it so that no contraband could pass through, Spain would need at least 1,000,000 men.

Promises Further Retreat.
"You must remember that Primo de Rivera's line is longer than the Hindenburg line in the world war and Spain is trying to maintain it with slightly more than 200,000 men. It is impossible, and Spain inevitably will be obliged to retreat still farther. As soon as we have completed our reorganization of western Morocco and enrolled our new subjects under the banner of the Riff we will make sure that Spain does retreat farther—to the Mediterranean."

"As for the political purposes of Spain's retreat, they have been worse than failure. I wonder how long he will be able to make the Spanish people believe this retreat was accomplished without serious loss of lives. The same afternoon 295 Spanish prisoners passed through Targueta on their way to Riff. They had been taken in the fighting in the Beni Gorfet mountains in the Larache zone. The next day thirty more passed through in Shehuan, the Holy City of western Morocco, where I went that afternoon, there were forty-five.

The Riffian lines are face to face with the Spanish all along the road from Tetuan to Tangier. Every tribe here has submitted to Abdel Krim and acknowledged him as sultan.
After a tour of the battlefields I went to Tangier, being accompanied by a captain in the Riffian regulars who was on one of his regular visits to Tangier on the sultan's business. The journey required that we pass through the Spanish lines.

400 People Run Blockade.
Besides my own party, about 400 men and women with their donkeys and mules laden with stuff they were taking to market in Tangier ran the blockade with me. The whole party had a guard of about 200 Beni Masou warriors, who accompanied us to the frontier of Tangier.

By 10 o'clock we were across the international frontier and safe. This same passage is made three times weekly by country people and there are almost never any casualties.
By midnight we were in Tangier, far from war's alarms. The night's experience had proved what both Abdel Krim and his brother had told me repeatedly—that they could take Tangier if they chose, but had not the remotest intention of doing so.

You Can't Standardize Human Nature

He had built the boats of the little Cape Cod fishing village for fifty years. There were two boats on the ways—one nearly finished, the other just started. "In this one," he said, "I've curved this line different, you see, so she'll enter the water cleaner. But in this new one, I think I've improved on the line." And as he spoke, he caressed with gentle thumb the grain of the wood. "It's well-seasoned," he said; "no fear of her opening her seams in the worst storm."

One might think that, in his half-century of boat-building, the weathered old man would have standardized his pattern, but not so. Each new boat was to have lavished upon it all the power of his experienced observation.

So it is with every one. If you like the thing you're doing, whether it is making chairs or books or railroads or bread, you will always hope that the task you are working on will be better than the one you just finished.

We like banking. That is why we have not standardized our rules regarding our way of treating the problems people bring us. Each day the experience of yesterday makes us more capable of understanding a problem rightly.

If you will come to us with any financial matters that trouble you, we shall be glad to advise about them as best we can.

11 VISITING JAP SAILORS DROWN AT VAUCOUVER

Big U. S. Liner Sends Out
Call for Help.

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 8.—Eleven Japanese—one officer, two petty officers, and fourteen sailors—were drowned in the harbor today when the vessel in which they were returning to the cruiser Idzumo, after shore leave, collided with the Canadian Pacific tug Nanook. The bodies of the officer, petty officers, and five seamen have been recovered.

The pinnacle was overturned and went to the bottom like a rock. Seven of its sailor-passengers came to the surface and were rescued, but two of them died shortly after being taken aboard their vessel.

Blame Not Determined.
Just who is to blame for the accident has not been determined. The pinnacle was crossing the bows of the Japanese cruiser, and the tug turned to avoid her. The barge, being towed behind, did not swing so readily, and it was against this that the pinnacle crashed. There was a heavy wind and swell at the time, which, it is said, brought the two craft in collision.

The cruiser Idzumo, with two others of the Japanese fleet, all of which have been service in both the Russo-Japanese and the great war, recently arrived here from Seattle and San Francisco.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—(United News.)—The United States line steamer President Harrison has broadcast an S. O. S. from a position in the Mediterranean sea south of the island of Crete. The vessel is bound for New York from Shanghai.

PROSECUTOR TO RESUME QUIZ OF OHIO U. STUDENTS

Columbus, O., Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Beyond an unannounced visit by Police Prosecutor John J. Chester to a pharmacy fraternity house, investigation of poison capsules in medicine at the Ohio State university virtually marked time here today. Questioning of the remaining few students who were on duty in the pharmacy dispensary during the week of Jan. 28 to 31 will be resumed tomorrow.

During Chester's visit a quantity of medicine, said to be of a habit forming type, was found in the possession of a student, previously questioned. This student had admitted he took the tablets containing the same kind of poison as was in the "death capsules" as a stimulant.

5 DAY HOBO TRIP NEARLY FATAL TO PAIR IN ICEBOX

New York, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Near death from hunger, thirst, and exposure, Jack Kaiser, alias "Red," 25, of Billings, Mont., and Edward Rehma, 25, of Butte, Mont., imprisoned five days in the ice compartment of a refrigerator car rolling eastward from Waukesha, Wis., were rescued in the New York Central yards early today. Discovered by an ice inspector, they were taken to a police station and thence to Bellevue hospital. Thirst was one of their greatest agonies.

Kaiser said the two were making their way from Montana without money. At Waukesha they descended through the hatchway into the ice compartment, but later a brakeman closed the hatch and pined down the iron bar.

LO, THE POOR JURYMAN.

W. E. D. Stokes, New Yorker of great wealth, is on trial here with others charged with conspiracy to defame his wife's character. Citizens called for jury service are being examined, and some of them indicate their desire to escape the jury box. That is frequently the case in a trial. The citizen concludes that jury service is a high social duty, but it is an awful chore.

It does not require much to get from the venireman a confession that they are prejudiced, have opinions which would make an impartial judgment difficult, or have some disability in the case. This is a particularly good case for prejudices and prejudgments. Two of the co-defendants are Negroes. The principal defendant is accused of blackening his wife's name and most of the citizens called have views.

The judge hearing the case notes the reluctance of the veniremen with impatience. It seems reprehensible of them. It has been said that the trial will occupy about two months. During this period the juryman will be looked up at night. They will spend the court hours listening to evidence, arguments about evidence, and rulings by the court. Then the bailiffs will take them to their rooms. They will have hotel or restaurant food and for surprise they will have walks at the elbows of the bailiffs. They must not talk to any one. They must be kept from any possible influence other than that of the evidence, and consequently they are even more isolated than prisoners in the county jail.

The judge sits through this trial as through other trials. His business is in the courtroom, and if it were not this it would be something else. It is a dignity he sought and a profession he likes. When court is adjourned he goes home to his family and his dinner. It is the same way with the attorneys. They are in court because that is the field of their chosen profession, and if they did not get any law to practice they might be starving to death.

The reporters who note the reluctance of the veniremen are at the trial because reporting is their business. They are exempt from jury service. A number of years ago the legislature passed a little act adding journalists to the class exempt from jury service.

All in the courtroom except the jurors and the defendants are there either because it is a part of their daily work or because they want to be. The courtroom will be packed by people who have come in off the street to hear something they think will be an earful. Even the defendants are at liberty during the trial. Only the jurors are under lock and key, twelve persons who probably would not have much use for each other in ordinary circumstances, thrown together for a long stretch.

Before they got into this thing most of them at least and probably all were busy earning a living and supporting families. They may have been employed in large shops or have run small ones. They are taken away from their occupations and given $3 a day for doing a duty which virtually subjects them to imprisonment by the state. All sorts of domestic and business troubles may arise while they are at this. They wonder how the family is getting along, how the job is getting along, how the meat market, grocery store, notions shop, or farm and stock are getting along.

No wonder the average citizen thinks this is as bad as a spell of sickness or poverty. He knows it is his duty, but when it comes around he thinks he is the one unfortunate out of a thousand who had to go and catch typhoid fever or be hit by an automobile. He says, "It isn't right," and he doesn't think it is. It is all right for us on the side lines to tell him to behave himself.

What to do? The jury system was the bulwark of our rights when without it the crown would make the judges keep the gallows and the turkey buzz. The English barons wanted to be tried by their peers. Mr. Stokes wants to be tried by his. The crown is not chasing the nonconforming barons and the hapless proletarians about the country now. We believe now that better justice would come from trial before a judge or three judges than from the average trial before a jury, but if a defendant wants his peers to try him the peers must be produced.

We realize that now and then when justice can avoid the jury system it gets hard boiled. It does in prohibition enforcement, when an offender goes against an injunction and comes before a judge. A jury might be lenient, but this offender does not get a jury. His peers can't help him. But how to make jury service tolerable to men who admit it is their duty, but a duty which puts an awful strain on them? Military duty also knocks civilian life to pieces, but the moral urge is more consciously felt in that and in a great war, which cannot be fought by professionals alone, every able-bodied person is being taken in the net. The citizen does not feel that he is the solitary victim of something unpleasant called duty. Maybe the jury system is obsolete.

OUT OF HEAT COMES LIGHT.

Brig. Gen. Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, is said to be entirely fearless. It is an army axiom that 5 per cent of men are incurable cowards and nothing can be done with them. Ninety per cent can be disciplined and led and will be courageous but may occasionally be taken by panic. Five per cent will not know what fear is and never will be influenced by it. Some people who know Mitchell say he is at the top of that 5 per cent.

Army and navy officers who just now would like to wring his neck say they know that any attack which possibly could be thought of by airplane against battleships, forts or troops, Billy Mitchell would try to make.

He has an enthusiasm for the airplane. It's a white hot one. He believes that the bombing plane and the pursuit plane have ended the usefulness of the battleship. He seems about ready to say that an army of infantry, cavalry, and artillery is done for. There is nothing but the airplane. He does say that the army and navy ought to be subordinated to the division of air and operate under the control of the air chief. He has put this in the magazines and newspapers and told it to congressional committees. He has broken bounds and discipline, has the army and navy red in the face and incoherent and is about to have something happen to him.

The one thing we do not at all regret in his activities is that he has stirred things up. We think he and his supporters are guessing wildly when they dispense with other arms than the airplane. Mitchell has disposed of some helpless hulks which could not say a word to him. He complained to a congressional committee how the navy opposed him by placing the hulks fifty and sixty miles from shore and in 100 fathoms of water to make it difficult and dangerous for the airman to get to them and hard for the bombs to take effect.

This is worth mentioning only to show that when a man is at white heat with an idea he may not be thinking very much. He would not expect the enemy to accommodate him as to distance from shore and depth of water except on some occasions. That was the only problem the bombers had to meet. They had to have to beat off attacking planes, meet anti-aircraft fire or have a mother ship which required protection.

Just the same, with every fault which can be found in Mitchell's enthusiasm and ideas and methods of advancing them he has made defense a live topic even if he has made the army and navy officers furious, scandalized the departments, and is in bad with the administration. It is our hope that out of it will come an air defense which will be adequate and which will not be obtained by the impairment of navy or army. When the air defense is what it should be its relation to the army and navy can be determined. That is a matter of judgment.

We'd rather have everything stirred up and something come of it than to have an apathetic indifference to the national requirements. The United States does not have to scuttle its ships in order to get airplanes. It does not have to guess wildly at the future and lose everything if it guesses wrong. It should maintain its navy at the treaty ratio and also get the planes. Then if the United States has to defend itself it will not be going out on one foot and a crutch. Let them fight about all this in Washington. Out of heat comes light.

SYNCHRONIZE THE LOOP WITH THE BOULEVARD.

The distance between Wabash and Michigan for most people is one block. But for officials it is all the way from the city of Chicago to the South Park road.

Chief Collins wants $120,000 for synchronized traffic stop lights in the loop. We hope he gets it. But we hope, too, that Chief Collins will remember that the distance from Wabash avenue to Michigan for most of us is only one block. The public will be served best by synchronizing the loop lights with the boulevard lights.

THE ILLINOIS PROHIBITION LAW.

It is proposed that the legislature submit the repeal of the Illinois prohibition enforcement act, the search and seizure, to the vote of the people. Prohibitionists will say this is anarchy. They also said that of the New York repealer. They also said it was secession from the Union, nullification of the constitution, and various other things. We do not think it would be any of these things.

The Illinois law is even more drastic than the Volstead act. Furthermore, under court decisions it is possible to prosecute one offense under both a state prohibition law and the Volstead act. The offender may be put in double jeopardy. It has been held that the constitutional provision protecting against two trials for one offense does not apply in the enforcement of prohibition law.

The repeal of the state law cannot nullify prohibition in Illinois. The Volstead act would not be impaired by it and the constitution would not be defied. A referendum would test the sentiment in the state. The wet and dry question has been submitted academically and the vote has been wet. We do not know how it would be in a referendum on the state enforcement act. The state might wet wet or dry. People thought Ohio might go wet, but it went dry.

It's a fair political question. If some states are not required to submit to the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments at all, other states are certainly not out of order if they repeal their own prohibition enforcement laws and rest under the Volstead act.

Editorial of the Day

SPENT ON MAN'S FACE.

[Aurora, Ill., Beacon-News.]

If it is true that a man's face is his fortune, then the American male certainly is capitalizing on it. American men spend $750,000,000 a year in their barber shops, $200,000,000 of which goes for facial massage and hair tonic, according to Joseph Byrne, publisher of the Barber's Journal.

What induces men to expend their time and money so prodigally on this "beauty culture"?

Prosperity is the first answer of those who have spent a lifetime studying the barber trade. Rivalry between the sexes for youthful appearance and enjoyment of the relaxation comes next. The care of his face is rapidly becoming as important to the male of the American species as to the female. Men have little excuse to laugh at women's "vanities."

DIETS FOR BABIES.

THERE are several varieties of stomach trouble in babies which are benefited by a diet much more concentrated than the baby is accustomed to. A popular way of treating colic, in considerable favor among physicians, is the giving of one-half teaspoonful of good, active lactic acid bacilli three times a day. Many of them fed it in thick mixtures when babies had certain troubles. The very thin, emulsified milk did especially well when fed evaporated milk. So did the baby who suffered from frequent vomiting and that line of disorders.

Powdered milk made from whole milk is of about the same constitution as whole milk when diluted with eight parts of water. Many of these babies do best if fed on a milk powder mixture that contains much less than eight parts of water.

The preferred treatment of pylorospasm is some form of thick gruel. Of course, in addition, the physician gives such treatment as employs such surgery as seems indicated. About the best of the thick gruels is known as Bauer's paste. It is composed of thirty ounces of milk and eight level, tablespoonful of farina. This mixture is cooked until it makes a paste as thick that it will not fall out of an inverted spoon. Gerstley gives this as a Bauer formula.

In pylorospasm Gerstley thinks there is a nervous spasm and not an organic stricture of the stomach. Therefore, most cases will get well without operation if the feeding and other treatment is persisted in. He fed a baby of a red haired girl a day. This means that the intervals between feedings is very short—far less than four hours. He gives a little food and stops—that is, the baby has a chance to throw it up. If there is a vomiting, the stomach is cleaned both of food and of bacteria.

1. It is all right to drink that amount of water if your kidneys and skin function well. If you have no drops, it is reasonably certain these organs are taking care of the water you drink.

2. Baby's book is a good one if you know medical terms fairly well.

Do you want more than is found in the books by Brown, Fick, and Howe?

WATER CONDENSATION.

A. E. M. writes: From four to five gallons of water is evaporated every twenty-four hours by my hot air furnace, which causes condensation on windows of heated rooms.

Do you think that amount of moisture in rooms is unhealthy?

No.

REPLY.

No, H. Wants to Be a Martyr.

R. H. L. STOP! This must not go on. I cannot let Argon, nicknamed The Lion, be sacrificed in this manner. He must not be the guinea pig. I can tell you what you want to know, for I have killed a red haired girl. Ah, yes, and have felt the burning kisses of a red haired girl as we sat there on the sand looking out over the lake turned into shimmering silver by the full summer moon. At the proper time, before the proper moon I shall give my report for the good of humanity, but Argon must be saved.

THE LION WOLF.

But the Adventist Believed It.

R. H. L.: A lot of Reformed Seventh Day Adventists stood around on hills in different parts of the country waiting for the end of the world, on Feb. 6. They have nothing on us Chicagoans. We stand around the same way waiting for a subway.

PLINY THE YOUNGER.

'S FUNNY THING! The power of habit. Yesterday we burst five different times violently into a room full of beautiful young women employed on some kind of special feature work for the Trib. The room they occupy was once the hall leading to the stairway going down to the composing room.

For three years we have been in the habit of bolting through that room twenty-five, more often fifty times a day, on our journey down to Hank to take him contributions and paragraphs for the Line.

NOW that the plant is being remodeled to make it a part of the new building, our old gangway is closed up. It's been that way for a week, and yet time and again as we start for the composing room we hurt ourselves into the midst of the beautiful ladies in the old hallway. People often write to us asking the requirements of a col. con. We want to add to what we have said before that a col. con. must be able to keep his sense of direction in case the building he works in is remodeled. And then he won't startle a dozen lovely ladies several times a day. Or, as one of them audibly remarked on our fifth appearance yesterday, "Gee, that guy must be a nut!"

Oh, We Want Laughing Gas.

PERSONALS.

MISS MAXINE DAVIS WILL GIVE PRIVATE DANCE MONDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1925, at her home, 115 Catherine-st. For appointments phone 3885-M.

You'll Fill a Dunker's Grave.

Dear are Raitch 'ell: To dunk; to dunk; God, how I love to do it. Only the conventions and mores of my social group prevent me from dunking all the way up to my wrist. My life's ambition is wealth, and when I have wealth I shall build a large house, and in this house there shall be a room with a drain pipe running on a wall around and around the room. I'll fill it with coffee and put a stack of kaffeekuchen in the middle of the room, and all day I'll just run round and round and dunk, dunk, dunk till I get too fat, and then I'll get a bicycle. Yours dunkingly,

X. S. BARGAIN.

All Right, but We Kinda Wanted To.

R. H. L.: Don't fight fate. It's all for the best. Don't ask the contrib agent to send in the lost song, "I Wonder What's Become of Vangie." The song was lost. Let it stay lost. We love to hear you read poetry, but ferver's sake don't sing. BUCKLE.

SO JACK and Estelle are really married! Well, well, now we newspaper men have to worry about that any more.

Well, the Troupe and the Col-Con Are a-Rarin' To Go.

RHL: This isn't a contrib, just a piece from a lonesome fatter who has had to move way out to Moline from dear old Chi. Please, RHL, for the sake of suffering humanity, do come to WOC some night with your Troupe of Trained Contrite and give the same kind of a program that you give on Live Nite on top of Tracy Drake's w. h. hotel. We have a powerful station in Davenport and it would give us Line fans of Iowa, Minnesota, lower Wisconsin, and most of Illinois, outside of Chicago, a rare chance to enjoy your speech making radio performance.

OH PLEASE!!!!!! ALICE BLUE.

If Art Will Shut Up, Yes.

Birrah: Help! Help! Have raised $147 to buy Art Brisbane a flying machine. Will you please contribute?

AND A PRAYER for Floyd Collins. May they get to him in time.

Ensemble Suits in This Spring's Expressions

THE Ensemble, having proved itself to be an indispensable member of the wardrobe, appears in a fascinating new combination of tete de negre ottoman silk with fine metallic embroidery. This fine gold and silver embroidery bands the coat and frock and accents the cuffs and inner collar. The fur, Viatka squirrel, appears where it should—at the bottom of the coat and in a trig little collar lined with silk and embroidery.

The Ensemble has other delightful guises—a coat of black georgette, for instance, over a bright frock of printed silk. Tiniest of plaits, another inspired variation, give one Ensemble fresh interest, and tweeds appear in a feminine application of mannish styles.

Many Furs in Various Ways Trim Women's Spring Coats

IF you prefer the becoming qualities of long haired furs, the natural lynx collar and facing of the second coat will attract you. This model is decidedly new in its straight flat back, tailored slant pockets and the English strap effect that gives a bit of fullness at the hip line. The material is an imported wool in natural tone.

The softer dyed-fox forms the high collar and band of the jewel-tone Coat pictured first. A flat petal-point trimming but accentuates its consistent straightness. One of the striking features of this model is its lining of tan and brown bengaline.

In some of the new models, furs emphasize the flare of the skirt while leaving the collar untrimmed; in others furs form an adaptable collar that may be detached at will.

Black Satin Approved For Spring Afternoons

PROMINENT among the popular afternoon frocks for this Spring is the long-sleeved, tailored gown of black satin. A long, frilled jabot softens the straight lines of many of the new models, and the smart blackness of almost all the dresses is vividly relieved by a brilliant color in frill or piping, or by a collar of delicate white drawn-work.

The frock sketched below successfully combines the qualities so noticeable in all the Spring designs. A gown on long tunic lines, of black Casanova satin is collared and cuffed with white satin piped in color, and a floating, scarf-like jabot has a border of the same color—red, Vionnet blue or fuchsia. The tunic skirt is split to show an under-panel of black crepe. It is priced $135.

Delicate New Laces Contrive Many Spring Furbelows

IN anticipation of the coming Spring our large collection of Laces is exquisitely dainty, suggestive of the fluffiest lingerie, the lightest of summer gowns, the most becoming trimmings. The range includes excellent imitations of popular patterns, at very low prices, and the finer laces made by hand at prices which are reasonable in consideration of their beauty. Our large showing includes all the cream, ecru and ochre tints as well as white, a great variety of widths and patterns. Special pieces of real Valenciennes are interesting. 45c, 65c, 75c, 95c the yard.

Femina Frocks

Assure the Busy Young Person Custom-made Style in One Fitting

WHEN a frock is needed immediately, and every moment is just packed with engagements, the Femina semi-made frock is indeed welcome. A few adjustments to taste—sleeve, cuff, collar, hem—some few hours for completion, and the thing is done! And, of course, the fit is quite up to our Custom Apparel standard.

Wine-colored Corded Silk

Sketched is the newest "Femina," straight-lined except for the graceful flare of box plaits at the front, each of which is topped by an amusing motif of three buttons. A silk tie is youthful.

For Evening—A Bright Shawl

A Fringed and Flowered Wrap from Vienna

THE ideal wrap for spring and summer evenings is one which looks cool but actually protects its wearer from the chill night breezes. Straight from Vienna come these wool crepe Shawls, which solve the problem with an air of charming individuality. In soft wool of jade, white or tan, gay with wool-embroidered flowers, the shawls are effectively finished with very long, hand-knotted fringe. A unique and stunning evening wrap. $75 each.

Paris Confirms the Chic Of the Felt for Spring

PARIS, our latest dispatch tells us, gives authoritative approval of the Felt for spring. And happily so, for it has shown itself adaptable to every occasion and season, and to every smart variation of line.

At this moment in the French and Debutante Salons, you will find an admirable choice of finer fur Felts, expressing the latest nuances of line, expertly handmade, and deftly trimmed. Sketched with the suit above is a model, hand shaped, of fur felt fabric, trimmed with flat flowers and leaves—in Moresco, one of the newer colors.

Clearance of Fur Coats

February Clearance of ALL FUR COATS

THIS is an unusually worthwhile Clearance: prices are considerably lowered; models of our usual high quality of fur are included; every wanted type of fur is represented; and every model is made in the smart lines of the season. There are Hudson seal, caracul, mink, leopard, muskrat, raccoon, squirrel—some forty kinds, in fact, including the best-looking combinations as well.

American Broadtail, Light Weight, Splendid for Spring Wear, Reduced

A very tempting collection of American broadtail Coats is included in the reduction. This Fur, very light weight, is especially good for the cool Spring of Chicago. Many of these Coats are combined with fox, squirrel and others, to blend with the soft gray, beige, cocoa or rich black of the American Broadtail.

The Ingenious New Spiral Choker

NEW, and ingenious because it is wired to fit snugly about the neck, in conformity with the spring approval of the small detachable fur collar, and because it will stay securely about the arm when the wearer is indoors or shopping. Made in almost every type of fur, and very unusual—from $22.50 up.

RICKENBACKER SUMMONED BY AIR COMMITTEE

Views Sought on Mitchell Controversy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—No legislation will be enacted by the present congress, now on its last legs, in the direction of a united air service, as urged by Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, and other advocates of a separate department of aeronautics.

Canvass of the situation today developed that the house select committee investigating air operations will not be prepared to recommend such legislation during the present session and probably will not be able to submit a report, but on the contrary, will ask the house by resolution to grant an extension of time.

Was Over by New Testimony
The committee has come to be regarded as friendly to the stand taken by Gen. Mitchell, but the fact of the matter, according to prominent members of the committee, is that the testimony of other officers representing the war and navy departments during the last week in opposition to the Mitchell forces has so impressed them that they are not prepared to recommend legislation along lines urged by the air "separatists."

Committee Has Open Mind
Representative Randolph Perkins, who has been virtually in charge of the investigation, said tonight the committee had issued a subpoena to Capt. Edward Vernon (Ed) Rickenbacker of Detroit, chief American ace during the world war, to testify on Thursday. Rickenbacker went to France with Gen. Pershing as a member of the motor car staff but was transferred to the air service at his own request and commanded the 94th aero pursuit squadron.

"My mind is wide open on this subject," said Mr. Perkins, "and the mind of the committee is open. It has been sincerely seeking all the best obtainable information."

LEHMANN DENIES FAIR STORE WILL BE SOLD SOON

A denial that an early consummation of the purchase of a banking syndicate of The Fair, one of the largest State street department stores, would be made was made yesterday by E. J. Lehmann, who, with his brother, Otto W. Lehmann, is owner of the 250,000 shares of common stock of the store.

"Reports that an appraisal is already under way are entirely untrue," declared Mr. Lehmann. "We have been approached, not once, but a number of times, recently by prospective purchasers, but as yet have made no decision. I don't believe, in fact, that the matter will be definitely decided at any time soon, for both my brother and I are soon to leave the city for a time, and certainly nothing will be done until our return."

Paul B. Skinner, resident partner of Hornblower & Weeks, investment bankers, has admitted that a series of conferences has recently been held between his firm and members of the Lehmann family.

WARREN LINCOLN MAY PLEAD FOR HIS LIFE TODAY

Geneva, Ill., Feb. 8.—[Special.]—Warren Lincoln, the lawyer horticulturist of Aurora, whose trial for the murder of his wife, Lina, and her brother, Byron Shoup, is in progress here, may realize the ambition of his lifetime tomorrow. The final plea will be made to the jury in Judge William J. Fulton's court, and it is not improbable that Lincoln will speak for himself.

During his period on the witness stand Lincoln explained many things to the jury. He said the heads found in the cement block were not those of his wife and her brother, but a strange pair of skulls he discovered in the basement of his house. But the delivery of testimony gives no chance for oratory and it's oratory Lincoln believes will win the jury away from a hanging verdict.

The case will go to the jury before nightfall tomorrow. Judge Fulton announced today he will stay in the courthouse until the twelve men have reached a decision. A bed chamber for jurists is provided in the Kane county courthouse and it is located not far from the jurors' room. Judge Fulton will take no chances on anything happening to the jury.

Shoots Man with Rifle

in Row Over Dog's Price
Peter Zelisko, 2151 West 18th street, offered $2.50 for a scrub terrier, but Tony Kasar, 2344 West Cullerton avenue, offered $2.75 just as Zelisko was about to get the dog at his price. Zelisko was so enraged, police said, that he ran home for a rifle with which he shot Kasar in the chest. Kasar will recover.

FIND 8 BODIES AFTER BOASTER ADMITS KILLINGS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
VIENNA, Feb. 8.—In the Moravian city of Trebitz a bootmaker, Charles Dworacek, drunkenly blurted out that he had murdered his two brothers, a watchmaker, Matthew, and a joiner, Bartholomew, who disappeared in the spring of 1919.

The police arrested M. Dworacek and discovered the skeletons of his two brothers in his habitation under the floor. Then M. Dworacek confessed also that in 1918 he had assassinated and robbed five Jews and a Jewish woman who were coming from Poland and were lodged in a camp of refugees near Trebitz.

The six corpses were found in a canal. M. Dworacek's wife and father and a friend are being held.

TWO GUGGENHEIM PARTNERS NAMED BY METAL FIRM

New York, Feb. 8.—Guggenheim Brothers, a power in various metal industries, announced today that John K. MacGowan and E. A. Cappelen Smith, both long associated with the organization, had been admitted as partners. Since its organization in 1889 the firm has confined its membership, with one exception, to members of the Guggenheim family.

Mr. MacGowan was born in Philadelphia forty-nine years ago and has been in the employment of the Guggenheim firm since 1899.

Mr. Cappelen Smith was born in Norway in 1873. He became metallurgist for the Anaconda Copper company and originated the basic Bessemer process in the Baltimore refinery now in universal use by all smelters of sulphide copper ores.

PRASE RECORD OF MEYERING IN AIDING WARD

The accomplishments of Aid. W. D. Meyering on behalf of the Eighth ward, which he represents in the council, are recounted in a campaign pamphlet issued by his friends to the voters of the ward yesterday.

Aid. Meyering, it is asserted, obtained an allotment of $39,167 from the vehicle tax fund for street repairs, including the resurfacing of eleven blocks with asphalt, while $112,910 was spent in the ward in new paving construction which greatly increased property values.

It is also claimed for him that he brought about the construction of a school for 1,000 pupils at 78th street and Calumet avenue and the appropriation of $55,000 for street lighting in the ward, more than double the amount which it would have obtained, had the bond issue for the purpose been distributed equally among the fifty wards.

Aid. Meyering was awarded the Distinguished Service cross for heroism in the war.

Is Your Problem Increased Selling Cost?

Some manufacturers and wholesalers believed that SALESMEN were perfectly able to do the selling job unaided. But a large number of these concerns saw their selling cost go so high in 1924 as to cut profits to the vanishing point.

The trouble may not be with the SALESMEN but with what is expected of them in meeting modern competition.

If increasing cost to sell is one of your critical issues, let us suggest a conference with this advertising agency organization. We bring you an unusual experience gained through more than twenty years of relationship with a remarkable list of clients. We have probably met before, a problem similar to your own and can give you a diagnosis worth many times its cost.

- “Pittsburgh for steel”
- “Detroit for autos”
- “Chicago for telephones”

HERE'S another reason to be proud of our city—just as Pittsburgh takes pride in steel production and Detroit in automobiles.

People everywhere ought to think of Chicago as the world's largest producer of telephones—as well as a leader in grain, live stock and railroads.

Quantity production. Quality products. Skilled workers—men and women here at the Hawthorne Works giving the world good telephones. All this helps make our city great.

Western Electric is proud of its share in the good work—since 1869 boosting Chicago.

SENATE DRIVE AGAINST PACT PRELIMINARIES

Agreement Signed, and Signed

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—There were signs another drive might be made against the preliminary agreement by which the allied powers allocated Germany under the Dawes plan. Liquidation of the claims of the allied powers against Germany.

The new angle of attack reports that the agreement signed in Paris was modified, with the most important modification designed to eliminate the agreement from the government's official position. The agreement is being construed that the agreement really is a preliminary agreement, based on the Versailles treaty by the senate.

Parties of Treaty
Put in its simplest form, the contention is that the parties of the form of the committee the United States senate of certain provisions, and on that basis be submitted to the senate.

There has as yet been no strong movement to contention in the senate. The disposition, who have expressed intent to wait and see what is adopted by Senator Hiram (Rep., Cal.).

Say Americans Sign

The point of the whole that after the agreement signed on Jan. 22 the American representatives at Paris, Frank B. Rowland, ambassador at London, and James A. Logan Jr., ambassador at Paris, United States with the commission, are credited with the original amendments. According to the modifications of the original amendments made at the instant American representatives.

SENATE DRIVE AGAINST PARIS PACT PREDICTED

Agreement Signed, Modified, and Signed Again.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—[Special.]—There were signs today that another drive might be made in the senate against the participation of the United States in the recent Paris agreement by which the allied and associated powers allocated German annuities paid under the Dawes plan to the liquidation of the claims of the victorious powers against the German government.

The new angle of attack is based on reports that the agreement originally signed in Paris was modified and again signed, with the most important modification designed to eliminate words which are being construed as showing that the agreement really committed the government to an arrangement based on the Versailles treaty, rejected by the senate.

Partakes of Treaty Form. Put in its simplest form the present contention is that the agreement partakes of the form of a treaty, or commits the United States to the observance of certain previous treaty provisions, and on that account must be submitted to the senate for ratification.

There has as yet been no indication that a strong movement to advance the contention in the senate is being organized. The disposition of senators who have expressed interest in it is to wait and see what course will be adopted by Senator Hiram W. Johnson (Rep., Cal.).

Say Americans Signed Both. The point of the whole matter is that after the agreement had been signed on Jan. 22 the American representatives at Paris, Frank B. Rowland, ambassador at London; Myron T. Herrick, ambassador at Paris; and Col. James A. Logan Jr., observer for the United States with the reparations commission, are credited with having signed both the original and the amended draft. According to report, the modifications of the original draft were made at the instance of the American representatives.

7 Soviet Officials to Be Executed for Grafting. Leningrad, Russia, Feb. 8.—[By Associated Press.]—Seven soviet government officials were sentenced today to death for mismanagement and corruption in the state leather monopoly. Three other directors were given prison sentences from five to eight years. They were charged with having made contracts with private traders whereby they obtained large personal profits.

GIRL MISSING SINCE SATURDAY. Hanna Brooks, 8, 853 North Western avenue, has been missing since Saturday. It was learned yesterday when the police were asked to find her.

NEW TYPE OF BRICK WALL MAY REDUCE COST OF DWELLINGS

A new type of brick wall suitable for dwellings, garages and other light construction, said to be more economical and more quickly erected than anything of the sort now in use, will be demonstrated at the convention of the Common Brick Manufacturers of America. The meeting opens this morning at the Drake Hotel.

The new type construction is the invention of William Schlack, architect of the William Schlack association. It consists in the main, he says, of four-inch brick wall with four-inch pilasters at frequent intervals bonded into the brick. It requires only seven and one-third bricks to the square foot of wall surface, it is claimed, against the thirteen bricks to the ordinary wall.

Mayor Dever has been invited to make the opening address. William Schlack of Chicago is president of the association.

Additional facilities and an augmented organization provide greater service to the customers of both concerns.

JANESVILLE CLUB WOMAN ACCUSED IN DIVORCE PLEA

Janesville, Wis., Feb. 8.—[Special.]—Charging that the divorce won from him by Fannie O. Munger in September, 1924, was gained "by collusion and fraud," Percy L. Munger of this city has started action in Rock county Circuit court to have the decision set aside. Munger claims that "he was the aggrieved party." Hearing will be held Feb. 23.

Mrs. Munger is a leader in women's clubs and is prominently identified with the Wisconsin League of Women Voters. Munger claims his wife neglected her home in favor of clubs; that she is a mania for spiritualism, and ridicules churches, and that some reasonable settlement should be made in view of the fact that she recently inherited $1,000,000.

He also says she followed osteopathy until it was a mania with her, ignored his requests that the children get medical treatment, and that she kept too many cats in the house.

HYLAN BLAMED FOR NEW YORK'S TRACTION ILLS

New York, Feb. 8.—Mayor Hylan and his administration are held responsible for New York's transit snarl and no cause exists for the removal of the state transit commission, said a report made to Gov. Smith today by Supreme Court Justice McAvoy, who was named to investigate the situation.

Mayor John F. Hylan.

City officials and the state commissioners have long wrangled over the problem, each blaming the other for the inadequacy of the greater city's subway, elevated, and surface lines of transportation. The quarrel finally was carried to the governor when the mayor demanded the removal of the three state commissioners on the ground of malfeasance in office. Appointment of the justice to conduct an impartial investigation resulted.

Justice McAvoy, in his report, finds that "The repeated and persistent refusal of the mayor and other city officials to adopt proposals of new subway routes and to approve contracts for routes otherwise suggested, completely frustrated provisions for increased transit facilities."

The report makes various recommendations to solve the transportation problem, several of them earlier suggestions of Mayor Hylan, but most of them adverse to the city officials' ideas.

LEAPS TO DEATH WHEN CORNERED BY GUN TOTER

Tragedy Is Sequel to Heated Argument.

Aaron Denmore, cornered in a fourth story room by a man with a revolver in his hand, leaped through a window in a desperate effort to save his life yesterday and was instantly killed.

The police are searching for James Clifford, said to be a safe-blower, who is accused of threatening Denmore with the revolver. The quarrel between the two is said to have started at a party held Saturday evening at the home of Peter O'Brien, 2309 West Van Buren street. Clifford, according to witnesses, quarreled with Carl Hanson, 1102 North Wells street, and tried to attack him with a knife.

Denmore, an intimate of Hanson, grabbed the knife and thereby incurred Clifford's enmity. Mrs. Hanson told the police she heard Clifford threaten Denmore with death and a moment later, she said, he ran through the apartment and out the front door. When he had gone, she went into the kitchen to find it empty and the window wide open. Her husband discovered Denmore's body. The neck was broken.

GREEKS BLAME POPE AND ITALY IN TURKISH ROW

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] VIENNA, Feb. 8.—A dispatch from Athens states the newspapers there have accused the Vatican and also the Italian ambassador in Constantinople with secretly assisting Turkey in the expulsion of the Greek patriarch. For this reason the government has refused to ask the pope to intervene. The government has demanded that M. Venizelos represent the Greeks before the league of nations on the question of the patriarchate, and recalls the Greek-Bulgarian convention for the protection of minorities in Macedonia concluded at Lausanne.

TENDING TO ONE'S AFFAIRS, RECIPE FOR HER 106 YEARS

Belle Fourche, S. D., Feb. 8.—One of the best recipes for longevity is to mind one's own business and to occupy one's mind with wholesome thought, according to Mrs. Catherine Sophia Stevens, who celebrated her 106th birthday at her home at Mignese, near here, today.

"Grandma" Stevens spent the day quietly at home, receiving the congratulations of numerous friends and relatives from all sections of the country.

Despite her years, Mrs. Stevens, believed to be South Dakota's oldest citizen, is still quite active and participates in many activities of the village.

VIRGINIA JUDGE ENDS HIS LIFE WITH SHOTGUN

Richmond, Va., Feb. 8.—Judge Frederick Wilmer Sims, 63, president of the Virginia Court of Appeals, ended his life in his apartment at a local hotel this morning, shooting himself in the head with a shotgun while Mrs. Sims had gone down to the lobby to mail a letter.

Judge Sims had been suffering for several weeks from the effects of a nervous breakdown, it was said, and was contemplating a hunting trip to Florida, so that the shotgun in the apartment failed to arouse suspicion. Despondency over the state of his health was the only cause suggested for the shooting.

A STATE COACH

From the Musee des Voitures, Petit Trianon, Versailles

This magnificent State Coach so reminiscent of bygone royalties was loaned by the French Republic to be brought to America by M. Jules Ratzkowski to exhibit for the benefit and to build a home for the "Broken Jaws" of France, men disfigured in the World War. The illustrated catalogue for the sale will be one dollar each, and every amount received will be sent to the "Gueules Cassees" without any deduction for printing or any other expense.

Mr. Ratzkowski especially rented the North Hall of the Coliseum of 28,000 square feet to give every facility for careful inspection of the various objects. Each and every item must be sold. These were released from the United States Custom House Nov. 7, 1924, and Jan. 9 and 29, 1925, with ample papers to warrant authenticity.

Tune in with Silvertown

Just as thousands of motorists during the day know the satisfaction of fine service by riding on Silvertowns, so thousands extend their satisfaction to the evening by listening to the delightful program of the Goodrich Silvertown Orchestra broadcasted over the radio . . . Tune in with Silvertown; on your car by day—on your radio by night.

Listen in on Station WTAS, Elgin, tonight and every Monday night, 9 to 10 P. M. (Central Time). And every Tuesday night stations WEAF, New York; WJAR, Providence; WFI, Philadelphia; WCAE, Pittsburgh; WGR, Buffalo; WEEI, Boston (10 to 11 P. M. Eastern Standard Time).

"Best in the Long Run"

Silvertown Balloons are made to deliver more than the ordinary run of tires, and they do . . . What the name, Silvertown, has always meant to cord tires, it means now to Balloons . . . Fifty-five years' experience in rubber manufacture implants in them the same sinew of quality that has raised Goodrich footwear, drug sundries, hose, belting, and mechanical rubber goods of every description to their place of honor . . . Silvertown Balloons are wonderful tires to ride—and drive—and last.

Applause

"Encore—encore," cries the radio audience that listens in on the program of The Goodrich Silvertown Cord Orchestra.

The audience grows greater with each succeeding concert, and thousands of letters, telegrams and postcards of comment arrive at the offices of The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, and the Radio Broadcasting stations.

Here are a few chosen at random.

Please send me your puzzle book. Just sold a Packard Sedan which I have driven 37,000 miles on Goodrich Heavy Duty Cords.

C. D. Mt. Clemens, Mich.

My daddy uses Goodrich Tires on his Ford, my mother wears Zipper Boots, and we all listen to the Goodrich Silvertown Cord Orchestra and enjoy the whole combination.

J. M. B. Parker's Landing, Pa.

Please send the cross word puzzle book. Only two weeks ago I made an endurance run in my Marmon from San Antonio to Los Angeles, averaging 40 miles per hour. I put new Goodrich Tires on the car in San Antonio and I didn't have a flat tire during the entire gruelling test. This is a most remarkable tribute to the quality of materials and workmanship in these truly wonderful tires. Your slogan, "Best in the Long Run," is 100% true.

J. A. B. Coronado, Calif.

When it comes to Zipper Boots we are strong for them and have been ever since you put them out, and just at present they are of more use in Vermont than auto tires. If your tires are as satisfying as your Zipper boots and orchestra music we will prove easy converts.

Mrs. E. E. B. Randolph, Vt.

The Goodrich Silvertown Cord Orchestra is keeping up the reputation of Goodrich products. I look to them every Monday evening as I do the Silvertown on my car each day. The orchestra is the best on the air and the tires the best on the road.

C. H. R. Milford, Mass.

Heard your orchestra. It was A1, like all other Goodrich products.

A. M. Co., Onida, Kansas.

Your concerts are the best that come over the air, but they cannot beat the Zipper Boots. They have galoshes beat a mile and I am so glad that I was fortunate to get a pair.

N. E. M., Gwynedd Valley, Pa.

I need not tell you how much I think of your tires. I have had them on my cars since 1911.

M. L. M., New Castle, Pa.

Your concert came through fine up in the White Hills of Vermont. Have used four Silvertown Cord Tires for last three years, over 16,000 miles, and going another year. What more can I ask?

Wm. S. S., Montpelier, Vt.

Your concert was very good. It is in music what Goodrich is in tires.

Burned Evidence

By MRS. WILSON WOODROW

SYNOPSIS.
The story is being told by young Dandridge, junior member of a New York firm of lawyers. Old Jerome Foadick, one of the richest clients of the firm, invites Dandridge to lunch at his home. The young lawyer is interested in the old man's granddaughter, Sara, a beautiful young society woman who is Foadick's sole heir. Foadick tells Dandridge that his father, his only son, had spent many years in South America, where he died. After his death a South American woman appears at the Foadick home with a baby Sara, whose mother, the nurse said, had died soon after the baby's father. Foadick had investigated the woman's story and found it to be true.

After luncheon Madam Adelbro, a famous psychic, calls on Foadick and tells him she had been an intimate friend of Sara's mother in Buenos Aires when Sara was an infant, and that when she had left the city on a theatrical tour, she had left with Sara's mother all her jewels and a large sum of money. When she returned to Buenos Aires Foadick was dead and her property had disappeared. She has just succeeded in making them, and she demands that Jerome Foadick return her jewels and the money with interest.

INSTALLMENT VII. TRAGEDY!

The next day passed without a word from Foadick. Sunday intervened. Monday, I heard nothing. Then on Tuesday, just as the afternoon was closing, Mr. Schlesling burst into my office.

"There's a rumor out that Jerome Foadick is dead. Have you heard it?"

I was shocked out of speech. I could only stare at him, gripping the edge of the table.

"What?" I got my voice. "Why, I saw him, was with him on Friday. He was quite well then. But, of course, at his age—"

"Could you call up the house?" he asked. "Or would it—?"

I reached for the telephone; but before I could lift up the receiver, the bell rang. It was Pardy, Mr. Foadick's butler.

"The old buccaner died with his boots on."

"Is that you, Mr. Dandridge?" His voice was hurried and shaken. "Can you come up at once? Mr. Foadick was found dead in his car this afternoon."

"It is true then? I have just heard. Yes, I'll be there just as soon as I can make it."

"The Foadick butler," I explained to Schlesling. "He says Mr. Foadick was found dead in his car."

"Ah-h? Heart failure, I suppose. Do they want you?"

"Yes," I was already getting into my coat. "There will have to be arrangements for the funeral and all that."

"Let me know," he called after me, "and if I can be of any help."

My thoughts were chaotic on that journey uptown. Apart from any material considerations, I truly regretted Jerome Foadick's death. I had already begun to look on him as a mentor who stimulated and amused me at the same time. And Sara! Incredibly rich, infinitely removed from my toil-sphere. What was the story of the scarred Spaniard? Would it be found among his correspondence? Our firm would wind up the estate. And then—good-by, Sara.

The cab stopped. I paid the man, and turned toward the house. A group of newspaper men was clustered on the sidewalk, and I recognized among them William Smith. We had been at college together, and had kept up our friendship since, although I had not seen him for months.

"Hello, Dandridge," he said, joining me. "What are you doing here?"

He had pale, bulging eyes, meaningless when at rest, but when anything caught his attention they were full of swift surmises, easy to read if you understood his mental processes.

Now they raced now, those surmises, one overlapping the other.

"How does Dandridge come into this?" he was thinking. "As a friend of the girl? Must be pretty intimate to show up so soon. May be an engagement story in it. Or wait! This is professional. Plummer, Schlesling, and Dandridge were probably the old man's attorneys."

To forestall a flood of questions, I enlightened him in regard to my errand.

"I came to see if I could be of any service. I've been acting as Mr. Foadick's personal counsel in Plummer's absence. What are the details, Graham?"

"Nothing much," he said. "The old buccaner died with his boots on, as I suppose he would have preferred. He seemed perfectly well when he started on his afternoon drive, so the housekeeper, Mrs. Hays, says. He told the chauffeur to take him down to Tiffany's; she doesn't know what for. I've got to find that out. Some present for the girl, possibly. Stayed at Tiffany's about fifteen minutes, then came out as brisk as you please, and directed the chauffeur to drive up as far as Fifty-ninth street, and he'd tell him then whether he wanted to go through the park, or be taken home. As they neared the Plaza the chauffeur asked through the tube for instructions. Out came, and asked again. No answer. He looked through the glass. The old fellow was all of a heap. Chauffeur, frightened, drew up at the curb, and tried to rouse him. Then called policeman on the corner. Cop called an ambulance surgeon, and they raced him home. But it was all over. Slight stroke of epilepsy, they say, and heart quit on him."

I looked. It was what might have been expected at any time with a man of Foadick's age.

"Yes," Smith agreed with my unspoken comment. "But listen." He dropped his voice in a way that suggested dark implications. Inspector Curran drove up here shortly after the undertaker arrived, and has been in the house ever since. What's his business? That's what the boys are waiting around to find out. Jerking his thumb in the direction of the group of reporters along the curb. "You don't happen by any chance to have a line on it, do you?"

I shook my head. "All I knew before I met you was the bare report that Mr. Foadick had died. Surely, you don't imagine—"

"O. no," Smith conceded regretfully. "There's probably nothing to it. If he had been shot from the sidewalk, or somebody had jumped into the car and killed him, there'd have been the devil of a scene, and cops thicker than at a rat. The chauffeur might have bumped him off, of course; but they've let him drive off to the garage without even a suggestion of surveillance."

The housekeeper took a message from us up to Curran, he went on, and he sent down word that he was merely here in the line of duty to learn if any time had been lost in securing first aid, but that, being an old friend of Mr. Foadick's, he was remaining a little while at the invitation of the grand-daughter.

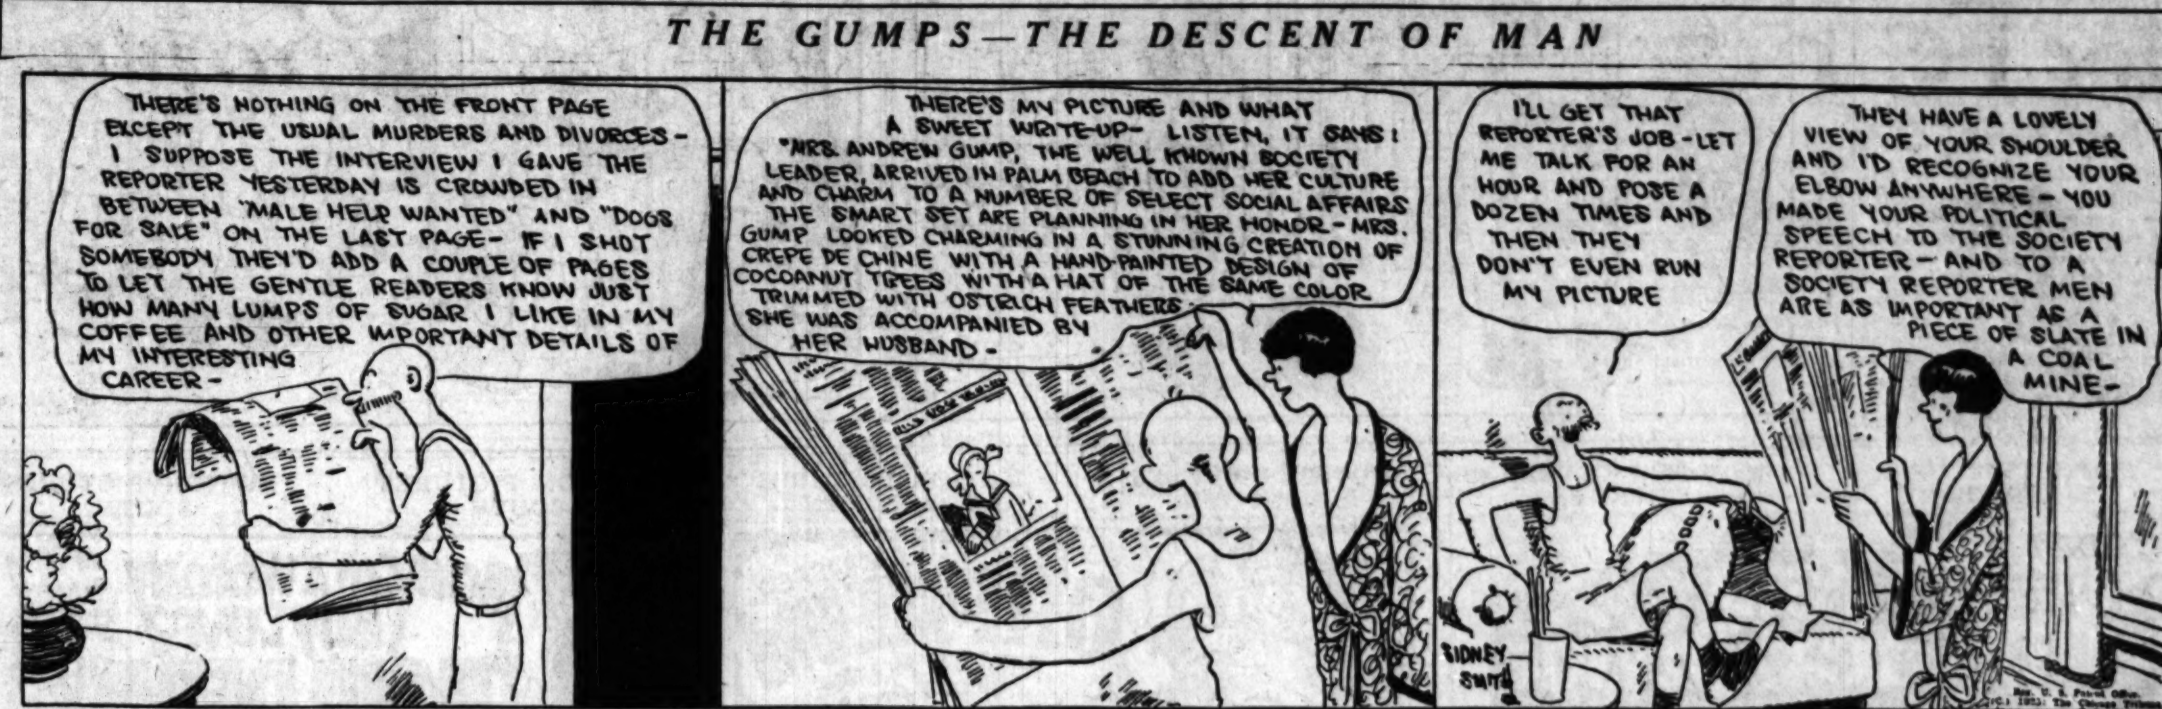

I suppose that must be straight. He lighted a cigarette with a bored expression of one who thought cheated of his just dues, is trying to make the best of it. "Not because Curran says so, but because there's nothing to connect him with."

"I say, though, old man,"—keeping step with me as I edged toward the door. "I've got to build up a story out of this somehow. It'll be front page news, of course. Keep your ears open while you're inside, will you, and tip me off if there's anything more in the Curran visit than appears. Falling that, I shall have to depend on atmosphere. Get me any little touches you can about the granddaughter, the stricken household, the heartbroken daughter—all that sort of thing. You know, I'll be around until you come home."

I muttered something noncommittal. It would be no use to try to shake him, I knew; but I resolved when I came out to be as blind and deaf and dumb as the three rhyons. Mr. Curran, I saw, had been in the line of duty to learn if any time had been lost in securing first aid, but that, being an old friend of Mr. Foadick's, he was remaining a little while at the invitation of the grand-daughter.

"I suppose that must be straight. He lighted a cigarette with a bored expression of one who thought cheated of his just dues, is trying to make the best of it. "Not because Curran says so, but because there's nothing to connect him with."

Mme. Mero, Pianist, Is Heard in Program of Chopin and Liszt

BY EDWARD MOORE.

In reviving some little played works by Chopin and Liszt in her recital at the Studebaker yesterday afternoon, Yolanda Mero demonstrated one fact, namely, that the majority of pianists in keeping away from them display sound instinct. Chopin's "Bolero" and Liszt's "Funeral March" are two of them. They are not for the average player.

Dr. John Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Chicago temple, Clark and Washington streets, yesterday took issue with his own denomination, with the Catholic, Protestant Episcopal, and certain other churches in declaring that divorce was permissible on other grounds than adultery and that remarriage can take place without violating the law of God.

Beloni leading.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

The Belgian combination of Maurice De Wolfe and Charles DeWolfe went into the lead at the end of the third hour of the six day bicycle race which started at the Coliseum last night. The leading pair scored 21 points in the first series of sprints, against 20 for Stockely and Gossens, and 18 for Horn and Madden.

Harry Horn and Eddie Madden were the only American riders in the dashes. They scored 16 points in the dashes. They scored 16 points in the dashes. They scored 16 points in the dashes.

Several jams were started shortly after the riders were sent away by Maj. Charles Ames at 9 o'clock. Gossens led the field around the course at a dizzy pace, while other riders made feints to get away. P. J. Carr, county treasurer, started the riders on the sprints, and during the fifth dash De Wolfe and DeGraeve started a jam, but Spencer caught him after a mile of hectic riding.

After the sprints Beloni started a jam, which was taken up by McNamara, who brought the field along. McNamara did not stop after catching the leaders. He kept going and gave his partner, Bobby Walther, a quarter of a lap lead. Bobby tore around the track at a furious clip and it appeared almost certain they would gain a lap until, in making the pickup with McNamara, Bobby's arm caught in Reggie's shirt and he fell heavily to the track. The spill stopped the jam. Bobby was not hurt and was soon back on the track.

Spill Disappoints Crowd.
The spill proved a bitter disappointment as the large crowd was cheering them from the time McNamara went into the lead. The team is one of the favorites in the race and was given a great reception as it paraded around the course. The crowd was disappointed that the spill occurred.

After the McNamara-Walther jam, Spencer stabbed and then Stockely, but neither was able to get away. It was furious riding for the first night of the race, but the Belgians, some of which are bent on winning the long grind, intend to jam repeatedly, as they believe they have excellent chances to beat out American combinations for the big money.

Two Win Two Sprints Each.
In last night's sprints DeGraeve and DeWolfe were the only riders to win two dashes. The former won the second and ninth sprints and the latter the fifth and seventh.
Despite the rain a large crowd witnessed the first night's racing. Promoters Harmon and Chapman announced ladies will be admitted free every afternoon, when sprints will be held at 3 o'clock. The dashes each night will be decided at 12:30 o'clock and another series at 2 o'clock each morning.

8th Regiment Five Beaten After 25 Straight Wins

The Jewish People's Institute basketball team traveled out to the Eighth Regiment armory yesterday afternoon and defeated the regiment's heavyweight squad, which had an untarnished cage record of twenty-five straight victories, 29 to 17. It was the seventeenth consecutive win for the west side five.

ILLINI RISK LEAD IN 2 GAMES THIS WEEK

BIG TEN STANDING

W. L. Pts.	W. L. Pts.
Illinois 5 1 333	Minnesota 4 2 371
Ohio State 3 1 333	Purdue 1 3 350
Michigan 3 2 300	Northwestern 1 4 350
Iowa 3 2 300	Wisconsin 0 4 300

GAMES THIS WEEK.
TODAY—Michigan at Northwestern; Iowa at Indiana.
THURSDAY—Northwestern at Illinois; Saturday—Indiana at Michigan; Minnesota at Ohio State; Chicago at Illinois; Iowa at Purdue.

BY TED ISERMAN.
Illinois cagers, leaders in the Big Ten pennant scramble, will twice risk their topnotch standing this week, though neither venture on conference courts is considered particularly alarming by Coach Ruby's high flying quintet, Northwestern and Chicago being the prospective victims. Ohio State, the holder of second position in the flag chase, will occupy its time Saturday night against Minnesota, but, despite a lap lead, Bobby tore around the track at a furious clip and it appeared almost certain they would gain a lap until, in making the pickup with McNamara, Bobby's arm caught in Reggie's shirt and he fell heavily to the track. The spill stopped the jam. Bobby was not hurt and was soon back on the track.

Two Games Tonight.
All of the conference teams except Wisconsin, will see action in the next six days, beginning with the Michigan-Northwestern tilt at Evanston and the Iowa-Indiana melee at Bloomington tonight.
The Wolverines already have counted a victory over the Purple and the Hoosiers dournd the Hawks last week. It looks as though history would be repeated in both tilts.
Three Tied for Third.
Chicago's victory over Michigan Saturday put the Wolverines in a tie with Iowa and Indiana for third position, and indicated the Maroons, with "Babe" Alvey back in the lineup, are a threat to their future opponents—capable, even, of surprising the Illini Saturday.

TIE IN VALLEY
Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 8.—Kansas and Washington emerged from last week's basketball contests in the Missouri Valley conference in a tie for first place.
Nebraska, in second place last week, continued to crowd the leaders. It played but one conference game, winning from Oklahoma. Washington played two games, defeating Missouri and Ames. Standings:
Team W. L. Pts.
Kansas 5 1 333
Washington 5 1 333
Nebraska 4 2 300
Oklahoma 3 2 251
Iowa 3 2 251
Missouri 2 3 200
Ames 2 3 200
Grinnell 2 3 200

EASTERN RACE IN KNOT
New York, Feb. 8.—[By the Associated Press.]—Dartmouth and Princeton, although idle for two weeks, continue to lead in the eastern intercollegiate basketball league with three victories in as many starts.
Carnegie of Pennsylvania holds the individual scoring honors, having made 24 points in five games, but is closely pressed by Laub of Columbia with 23 points. Standings:
Team W. L. Pts.
Dartmouth 3 0 1,000
Princeton 3 0 1,000
Columbia 2 1 800
Yale 2 1 800

A majority of city public high school boys will put away their uniforms after tomorrow, when the league schedule is completed in all four sections of the circuit and will leave the teams which have qualified for the semi-finals to keep the prep cage fires burning.

The central section ended its activities last Friday and the south section winds up its card today, leaving the north and west sections to finish play with four battles tomorrow.

Drawings for the semi-final round robin series, which will take in two lightweight and heavyweight teams of each section, will be made Wednesday afternoon at the City Club. Before the semi-finals, ties in the central section and other divisions if deadlocks result from the remaining games.

JACK AND BRIDE, ON HONEYMOON, VANISH FOR DAY

KEARN'S SEEKS FIGHTS

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Jack Kearns will arrive in New York about March 1 to consider offers for Jack Dempsey's summer campaign, particularly bouts with Tommy Gibbons and Harry Wills. Promoter Charles Henderson said today. Henderson is head of a movement to erect a stadium at Long Island City which will seat 105,000 people.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 8.—[Special.]—So far as his friends here are concerned, Jack Dempsey and Estelle Taylor have vanished for one day. But they will turn up again tomorrow, say Joe Dempsey, the champion's brother; Teddy Hayes, his secretary; and Jack Kearns, his manager. At Miss Taylor's home her housekeeper did "not know anything about it, but they're certainly not here."

The champion and his bride vanished from their hotel in San Diego early this morning, eluding their party via the freight elevator at 2 a. m., and made off northward to her home in the Boyle-Royce. They did not get as far north as the champion's frequent visiting places in this city.

Here's Guess at Their Future.

Here is as good a prophecy as any regarding Jack's future in the ring and his bride's future in pictures: Jack's next big money making venture will not be a fight. Instead, Jack and Estelle will together sign to be featured in a series of moving pictures. Jack feels a need for ready cash and might be tempted by a boxing match in the near future, but the Lucullan life of a movie hero at four figures a week is not so unremunerative.

What's more, Miss Taylor does not want Jack's new nose marring in a ring encounter and the girl that possesses enough influence with the king of boxing to send him to a hospital for an operation solely in the interests of beauty, may well be reckoned as carrying a potential wallop when it comes to the argumentative phase of the fight versus movies question.

A few hours before dropping from sight in San Diego last night, Dempsey conversed with Kearns by phone.

Jack and Kearns diver. "I told him we were all doing business together," the champion said to friends, "but I couldn't think of fighting just at present. If I fight again I expect Kearns to be my manager. I do not feel I am through with him, and Estelle has left it up to me."

Kearns gave his half of this conversation tonight. "I didn't mention fight to the champ," he said. "With love and marriage on his mind there's no sense in that. Give him about a week and let him get a little restless. He'll be right there when we get something arranged."

The champion has a need for cash, although rich in property. He and Kearns own two valuable pieces of real estate in the Westlake Park district, the Barbara hotel, and the Wilshire apartments.

May Buy Out Kearns. If the champion and his manager were to call quits, one or the other would have to be bought out. This buying out of Kearns is exactly one of the things Jack and Estelle have talked over together, they said last Jan. 15 in their first announcement to the world of their intentions to wed.

Hence the need for a cash turnover, which may mean the last pugilistic appearance of the renowned firm of Dempsey & Kearns, or the first move appearance of an equally renowned new firm, Dempsey & Taylor.

Women's International Title Ice Meet Postponed

New York, Feb. 8.—The women's international ice skating championships, originally scheduled for the Jackson Heights, L. I., rink yesterday, but postponed until Monday, owing to the warm weather, were indefinitely postponed today when the weather report for the next three or four days failed to predict any drop in the temperature.

Boxer Dies As Fight Is Stopped

LONDON, Feb. 8.—[United News.]—Ten seconds after the referee had stopped their bout in the sixth round because of the severe punishment Pop Humphreys was administering to youthful Toddie Sheppard, the younger man collapsed and died in the ring. Sheppard shook hands with Humphreys after the referee had ordered them to stop fighting. As their hands slipped apart, he dropped to the canvas.

John D. Getting As Clever With Clubs As With Refineries

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Feb. 8.—John D. Rockefeller seems destined this season to lower his previous record for his eight holes on the Ormond Beach course.

Beginning with his first match of the season last Tuesday, when he tied with George F. Baker Sr., New York banker, over the course, he has lowered his score of 64 by an average of two strokes daily until yesterday he turned in a card of 46. His low mark last year for the eight holes was 42.

He was playing in a threesome with Gen. Adelbert Ames, his regular golfing partner, and A. W. Caloway of Philadelphia.

Allen Practices For Diamond Ice Trophies Meet

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Feb. 8.—Having won the crown as international amateur outdoor speed skating champion last week on Pontiac rink here, Francis Allen of Chicago is practicing here for the American Diamond trophies and the national crown to be contested this week at Lake Placid.

GASOLINE ALLEY — PERHAPS OCTAVE OUGHT TO KNOW

KIPKE WILL TAKE LITTLE'S POST AS MICHIGAN COACH

(Picture on back page.) From a reliable source it has been learned that Harry Kipke, captain of the Michigan football eleven of 1923 and all-American half back in 1923, has been selected to take George Little's place as one of the coaches of Wolverine gridiron eleven.

The last two years Kipke has been assistant to Coach Henry of Missouri, which won the championship of the Missouri valley conference last fall. Kipke's worth as a coach was shown at Missouri.

One of Best Half Backs. During his playing days Kipke was one of the leading half backs in the country and is considered just about the equal of any back who ever wore the maize and blue of Michigan. He was a remarkable punter and drop kicker, was a clever carrier of the ball and equally strong on defense.

It was his keen knowledge of the game and rules which made him such a valuable player. He anticipated opponents' attacks and was quick at the trigger to take advantage of any option in the ruins.

Will Relieve Yost. With Kipke going back to his alma mater, Coach Fielding H. Yost will be relieved of the responsibility of developing the eleven. The last two years Yost has acted in an advisory capacity and the work of putting a team in shape fell to George Little and Tad Weinman. The latter is a competent coach, one of the most thorough in the game, and with Kipke working with him, they should place a team on the field this fall which may be a championship contender.

Little, who did such excellent work at Ann Arbor in recent years, has accepted the athletic directorship at Wisconsin and it is understood he will also coach football.

RYAN PLANS FIGHT IF BADGERS DISCARD HIM AS GRID COACH

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 8.—[Special.]—The policy of the University of Wisconsin athletic council regarding the appointment of Coach Jack Ryan to serve another year was still in doubt here last night when the council adjourned at midnight after a five hour conference with George Little, new athletic director.

Ryan appeared before the council, ostensibly to show why he should be retained for another year. Ryan has let it be known that he will go to the board of regents with his case should the athletic council appoint any one else.

From another source it is understood Bennie Leonard, the retired lightweight champion, will come out of retirement to meet Sammy in an outdoor show this summer. In fact, this informant states Leonard retired purposely so that a lightweight contender could be knocked up.

Mike Trant, the ever faithful bodyguard of Jack Dempsey, let loose of a bit of information which has Joe Benjamin coming east for the express purpose of securing a match with Mandell.

East Chicago Opponents Here. Jack Malone of St. Paul and Ray Pelkey of Oakland, Cal., who clash in the windup of the boxing show at East Chicago on Friday night, will start on the last lap of preparation at local gymnasiums today. Malone will work at the Arcade and Pelkey at Mulien's. Frankie Welch of the west side and Johnny Murphy of Pullman, who will trade punches in the ten round semi-windup, will train at the Arcade.

Jim Mullen, physical director of the St. Phillips A. C. 3150 West Jackson boulevard, has arranged an attractive card of bouts for his amateur show tonight.

OLYMPIAS, PULLMAN TAKE CUP PLAY GAMES

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 8.—No professional soccer games were played in St. Louis today as the result of the refusal of players to contest, after the declaration of the league management to accept their terms on division of gate receipts. When the next games will be played, if any, is problematical, according to Winton Barker, president of the St. Louis Soccer and Amusement association.

The Olympia soccer team booted its way to a 2 to 0 victory over the Bricklayers at the latter's field yesterday afternoon and advanced to the second round of national cup competition. Pullman stopped Sparta, 4 to 1, in the other cup contest.

Both games were crammed with action. The battle at Pullman became so hot that three players were ruled out for unnecessary roughness. One was ejected in the Olympia-Bricklayers tilt.

Pullman and Sparta played to a 1 to 1 tie in the first half, but the car builders counted three goals in the second period. Mair, Pullman's inside right, was the outstanding performer. Turk, Sparta's right back, was injured in the first half and was removed from the game.

In the Olympia-Bricklayer encounter there was no scoring in the first half. Vidano and Motoska each kicked a goal for Olympia in the final session. Part of the field was covered with water. Lineup:

Ban of Chicagoans in East Threatens Skate Body Split

A break between the Western Skating association and the International Skating union is threatened as a result of the refusal of the latter body's officials to allow Henry Nelson, Chicago entry in the intermediate class from the Norwegian-American A. A. to compete in the meet last week at Saranac Lake, N. Y. Frank Kalteux, president of the Western Skating association declared last night.

The Nelson case is but a climax of injustices, according to Kalteux, to which the skaters of the middle west no longer can submit. Entry of Nelson was accepted for the meet but he was ruled out because he had competed in senior events in the west, although he is under age limit of 18 years for the intermediate class. Injustice also was shown by the I. S. U. officials in allowing three skaters from Chicago to compete whose entry had not been endorsed by the Western Skating association, he alleged. "They broke their own rules in allowing these men to enter, but turned down one of our eligible skaters," Kalteux said.

LOTT NAMED NO. 1 IN JUNIOR TENNIS LIST; PARE NO. 5

New York, Feb. 8.—George Lott Jr., Chicago schoolboy, whose play was a sensation last season, heads the 1925 national junior ranking list in both singles and doubles, according to the ratings announced by the United States Lawn Tennis association.

Lott, who yesterday gained added distinction when he was moved into the "first ten" of the national men's list by the U. S. L. T. A., holds the junior honors for the second successive year. He shares the top in the doubles list with Thomas McGilgan of Philadelphia. Emmett J. Pare is No. 5 in the singles ranking.

In the division of honors from a geographical standpoint, the east leads in the junior classification, placing seven of the twenty juniors ranked in singles, with the Pacific coast third with seven and the middle west second with three. In the boys' classification, the middle west takes first place with seven out of twenty-five places. The complete rankings follow:

SMITTY—DISARMING THE ENEMY

MUNN'S LIFTING POWER GREATEST MAT ASSET

Wayne Munn, claimant of the disputed world's heavyweight wrestling championship, who will meet Mike Romano in a final match at the Coliseum on Feb. 16, has more lifting power than any grappler who ever aspired to a world's title, according to such competent judges as Billy Sandow, manager of Ed Lewis and Charley Cutler, a great wrestler in his day.

In fact Cutler met Munn when the latter was just beginning to come across the wrestling horizon. At that time Munn secured an underneath crotch and half nelson and picked Charley up with apparent ease. In addition to lifting the local grappler into the air, Munn released the grip when Cutler was high in the air and permitted him to fall heavily to the mat. The fall jarred Cutler to such an extent he proved an easy victim for the former Nebraska football player.

Cutler has met all the champions including Frank Gotch. He wrestled Gotch on a number of occasions, but Charley is frank to admit none of them had the lifting power of the present champion.

Romano has no fear of the man who tossed Lewis out of the ring and says he will keep away from Munn long enough to tire him out and then will pin him by one of his numerous holds. Mike scales 215 pounds and pleaded with the local promoters to give him the match.

Joe Zickman, the ringier, who is being recognized as one of the toughest grapplers in the game, will be pitted against Hansen Giles at the Star and Garter on Friday night. Zickman tossed Lewis into the bleachers at the west side theater last Friday and Ed was taken to a hospital. One other bout will be arranged by Manager Art Modler.

ALL NATIONS BEATEN.
Starting a batting rally in the eighth inning, Seward Park Mickers defeated the All Nations indoor squad on the Seward floor yesterday, 8 to 7. The feature of the game was the all around playing of two Indians, Little Bear and Leasing Wolf of the All Nations team. Messenger of the same squad booked three hits, one of which was converted into a run. Score:

The Postl Health boys, Cook county indoor champions, yesterday defeated the Foster nine, 9 to 0, on the Welles park gym floor, and registered their twenty-second consecutive victory.

IN MOTOR DOM BY J. L. JENKINS

MOTOR interests in Chicago have renewed their campaign against the proposed gasoline tax in Illinois with a double broadside of "facts and figures" issued yesterday by the Chicago Motor club and the Chicago Automobile Dealers' association.

"The open season for taxing motor vehicle owners is at hand," says the dealers' association bulletin. "Springfield is full of thoughts right now of how to get more money out of the automobile owning public."

The Motor club has issued a sixteen-page booklet, to be distributed free of charge to all state motorists, which reviews the entire system of motor taxation in Illinois.

Woods and Waters by BOB BECKER
CARDINALS, brown creepers, nut-hatches, and many other interesting birds have been calling the middle west their happy hunting grounds this winter, according to reports from bird fans. Malcolm McKinnon, writing from Duquesne, Pa., says he has noted chickadees, brown creepers, downy and hairy woodpeckers, purple finches, horned larks, and snow buntings, as well as the common bluejay.

ALEX SECOND IN TRAP SHOOT IN HIS HONOR

The Grover Alexander shoot featured the program at the Lincoln park traps yesterday afternoon, when members of the club set aside the day to honor the great Cub pitcher, who will soon start on his training jaunt to Catalina Island, where the Cub team will train. The best Alex could do was to finish second in the doubles shoot at 16 yards, being beaten for the top place by H. M. Rowley, who broke 44 out of a possible 50.

In the distant handicap event at 100 targets, J. R. Graham won, having a 95 target score at 27 yards. H. Day, for second honors, while Frank Huseman and A. Christian, standing at the same distance, registered 93 apiece, tying for the third section honors.

SUMMARIES.
DISTANT HANDICAP SHOOT.—J. R. Graham, 95; H. Day, 93; F. Huseman, 93; A. Christian, 93; E. Burmeister, 92; Dr. W. Little, 89; W. G. Lewis, 20.
DOUBLES.—H. M. Rowley, 44; G. Alexander, 43; E. P. Troch, 43; C. O. Arms, 43; C. J. Wimmer, 43; O. W. Johnson, 42.

FARM & GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

HIGHER PRICES START SPRING WHEAT FEVER.

It is predicted that with wheat selling around $2 the spring wheat acreage will probably be increased. If prices continue to stay high, with price prospects good for harvest time, there will be many new spring wheat growers.

Whether the present price situation justifies a boost in the spring wheat acreage or not, every man growing wheat should strive for the best quality that can be produced. Crop experts claim that the Marquis variety of spring wheat is well adapted to Illinois conditions.

One of the prerequisites for success with spring wheat in this state is early seeding, according to R. W. Stark of the state's experiment station, where it has been demonstrated that unless the crop is put in early it will not mature. The station's tests show, Stark says, that for best results wheat must be sown in Illinois not later than March 7.

REILLY WINS SKI MEET, THOUGH HE IS OUTJUMPED

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 8.—Barney Reilly, wearing the colors of the Forest Preserve Ski club of Chicago, took the honors of the class A division of the annual northwest ski tournament here today, but Walter Hilden of Minneapolis, performing in class B, furnished the feature work of the program.

Hilden successfully negotiated the longest standing jump of the meeting, 123 feet, while the best the class A section was able to produce was 120 feet, by Henry Hall of Detroit.

New Record in Boys' Class.
Reilly accumulated 263 points in winning the class A honors, while Hilden was accredited with 274 points.

Earling Grinder of Duluth, Minn., proved to be the only record breaker of the tournament. The Zenith city youngster leaped 68 feet after several tries, establishing a new mark for the boys' class. The former record was 66 feet.

Record Falls to Win.
Grinder's record did not count toward the championship in his class and first honors were awarded to Arthur Krogh of Chippewa Falls, Wis.

K. of C. Baseball League to Hold Meeting Tonight
The Knights of Columbus Baseball league will hold its first meeting of the season tonight at the Morrison hotel at 8 o'clock. Teams desiring to enter are urged to have representatives present. Edward Sordelet is again president of the league, which enters its twenty-first season this spring.

SHOEL WINS AT G. FORKS.
Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 8.—Ole Shoel of Grand Forks took first place in class A of the international ski tournament here today with a total of 208 3-10 points.

Chest Colds Unnecessarily Common

The chest colds that are so common in mid-winter and early spring can often be checked at the beginning by prompt home treatment. What is needed is a counter-irritant to break up the congestion—a medicine applied externally to stimulate an increased flow of blood to the affected part.

For nearly fifty years Sloan's has been famous for relieving strains and sprains, lameness, bruises, rheumatism and, in fact, every kind of muscular pain. It works in exactly the same certain way in the case of chest congestion.

Its stimulating ingredients increase the circulation throughout the congested place. And this tide of fresh, rich blood brings to side tissues just what they need to heal them.

Apply Sloan's gently to the chest—without rubbing. You feel at once a gentle warmth—a pleasant tingling of the skin—then, very soon, the cold begins to break up. To enable you to prove for yourself the effectiveness of Sloan's, the makers are offering a trial bottle free. Write for it to Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Dept. A-16, 113 West 18th Street, New York City.

"What's all the Shootin' for?"

"THEY must all be liars" concludes many a layman who glances over the conflicting claims to advertising leadership made by the Chicago newspapers.

"Merchants do not seek business by quoting sales comparisons with their neighbors. Why should newspapers resort to this distasteful method of competition?" is the next thought.

Since each claim is apparently supported by a wealth of statistics "compiled by The Advertising Record Company, an independent auditing service," the audience is apt to have the uneasy feeling of one in the presence of magicians.

In this series we shall attempt to give a picture of the lineage situation in Chicago from all angles, explaining the "tricks of the trade" by which statistical support is worked out for the conflicting claims of competitors.

Since The Daily News uses more of this type of competitive lineage advertising than all other Chicago papers combined, this discussion will be illustrated by using The Chicago Tribune and The Chicago Daily News as examples.

We will discuss the matter under five heads:

1. Why use competitive lineage figures?
2. 6 days against 6.
3. Department store situation.
4. Want Ads—lineage or number?
5. Going forward or going back?

Why use competitive lineage figures?

ADVERTISING is an unique commodity. Cynics call it "blue sky." It is intangible. It is bought on faith.

And nothing about advertising is more difficult to understand than the variations in value among advertising media. Circulations vary not only in volume but also in responsiveness. Volume is easily measured and is reflected in rates. Responsiveness is more difficult to gauge.

Only the actual experiences of advertisers throw light on responsiveness. Results secured by advertisers prove the wealth or poverty of readers of a publication, their confidence in its advertising columns, and the nature of appeals to which they most readily respond. But advertisers seldom report the results they secure to the publications they use.

The next best index to responsiveness would be the money spent by any advertiser or group of advertisers in a publication. Unfortunately, varying rates make such statistics mere estimates, although where the margin is wide enough they may be used. For instance, it cannot be accurately stated by how many dollars The Chicago Tribune leads, but it is certain that its advertising revenues are far larger than those of any other newspaper on earth.

Since advertisers will not tell what results they secure from various media, and since revenue figures are not accurate, the use of comparative lineage figures has been developed as the best available index to the collective experience of advertisers—as an index to the relative responsiveness of publications.

This method is faulty in that it does not take circulation into consideration. A line in a paper with forty-thousand readers counter-balances a line in a publication with a million circulation. The milline, determined by multiplying lineage by circulation, puts the comparison on an accurate basis. Although The Chicago Tribune prints more millines of advertising than any other publication on earth, the following pages will be on the usual agate line basis which is more favorable to the newspapers of smaller circulation.

Accepting lineage as the best available index to responsiveness, we must realize that lineage records may be juggled. In fact, they have been used and abused so much that they recall the ancient saying about "lies, damn lies, and statistics."
